'Anything Goes' heads new season

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Palette, Masque and Lyre Theatre opens its 32nd season of quality community entertainment Friday at 8 p.m. when director Mark Badtke presents the Cole Porter classic "Anything Goes."

Jump aboard the Liner American and experience a cruise, 1930's style, complete with romance, intrigue of the lighter variety, and songs as only Cole Porter could write them.

"This is Cole Porter at his best," said P., M., & L. Publicity Committee Trish Herman. "This comedy is filled with young lovers, chorus girls and zany gangsters."

P.,M.,&L., which is one of the few non-profit theatre groups that owns its own building, will offer six scheduled plays during the 1992-93 production year. Other plays will be: "A Christmas Carol," "Something's Afoot," "Same Time Next Year," "Let's Get A Divorce," and "Best Little Whorehouse in Texas."

In addition to the season's opening night, "Anything Goes" will be presented on Oct. 3, 4, 9, 10, 11, 16, 17 and 18.

All performances are at 8 p.m., except for the Sunday matinees which start at 2:30 p.m.

Adult ticket prices are $8 and student and senior tickets are $6. Seat selection is on a first come, first served basis at the theater.

For more information or reservations, call 395-3055.

P.,M., & L. Theatre performers Jennifer Biehl, Tom Hausman and Steve Garside rehearse for the tonight's season opening night of "Anything Goes."

Fire Prevention Week offers a reminder of home hazards

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Fire Department, with the help of the Antioch Fire Prevention Bureau, would like to remind all area residents that Oct. 4-10 is National Fire Prevention Week.

This annual program, which marks the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire in 1871, is designed to remind people about possible fire hazards in their home.

Somewhere in America, a fire station is called to a fire every 16 seconds. Every 18 seconds someone is injured by a fire, while every 100 minutes someone gets killed because of it.

"On average, over 5,000 people die each year because of fire," said Antioch Fire Department Captain Richard Frankson. "When you consider that over 80 percent of these deaths occurred when people were in their homes, that number is staggering."

To help lower that number in the Antioch area, the Antioch Fire prevention Bureau would like to pass along a few fire safety tips from the National Fire Protection Association.

Space heaters are the number one cause of home fires in the U.S. By simply moving these heaters at least three feet away from anything flammable, and turning them off when out of the house or sleeping, can drastically reduce the threat of fire of home fires, said Frankson.

Other tips include stay in the kitchen while cooking, do not smoke while sleeping in bed or on furniture and make sure there are several working smoke

WAUCONDA — A 15-year-old Wauconda girl, Megan Hedges, won a one year court battle against the Wauconda School District for banning the distribution of a religious paper in the school.

Grayslake trustees talk Crossings plan

GRAYSLAKE—Just who will build a trail surrounding the proposed 667-acre Prairie Crossings development is the key issue as Grayslake trustees consider the matter next week. The plats and subs committee of the village board passed along a favorable recommendation for annexing and zoning requests for the parcel, bordered by Routes 45, 120, 137 and Casey Road. The development includes 60 percent open space and a commercial parcel. The village board will consider the plan at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 6 at village hall.

No leads yet in attack of girl, 12

VERNON HILLS—After following up on more than a dozen leads in the reported sexual abuse of a 12-year-old Vernon Hills girl Sept. 12, Vernon Hills police still have no closer to a solid suspect. Vernon police have sent police departments throughout southern Lake County sketches of the man who allegedly attacked the girl, Price said. Police were to interview two potential suspects this week, but described them as "long shots." In the incident, a man with no pants on reportedly grabbed the girl from behind as she walked near Hawthorn Primary School, threw her to the ground and jumped on top of her. The man fled after the girl struck him in the face with an object. The man was described as white, heavyset, about 30 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, 200 pounds, with short dark hair. Police have asked residents to report leads to 362-4449.

Hainesville chief quits, is replaced

HAINESVILLE—Hainesville has a new police chief. Joseph Policky has been named to succeed Robert Koop following Koop's sudden and unexplained resignation last week. Policky, a 57-year-old McHenry resident, has been a part-time member of the department since last spring. He assumed his new duties Sept. 19, two days after a special village board meeting called to receive Koop's resignation. Policky was in the center of a controversy that engulfed the Hainesville department in mid-summer when truckers and companies complained of lengthy and unwarranted stops. Policky said he will not emphasize truck violations any more than others.

Round Lake schools finally have contract

ROUND LAKE—Round Lake area schoolteachers have signed a two-year contract that will give them a small, across-the-board salary increase, spokespersons said. The District 116 School Board was expected to make the contract official by ratifying it Thursday. The pay-hike was less than the 2 percent teachers had once insisted on, said School Board President Robert Hubka. And the two-year deal would let the board renegotiate after the first year, Hubka confirmed. That could suggest the contract rides in part on the passage of a November property-tax referendum. Signalling the end of 11 months of rancorous negotiations, teachers' union members approved the deal last Thursday. But the 2-to-1 vote revealed an unusual amount of dissent.

Charity sale for fire victims rescheduled

ROUND LAKE PARK—Rain squelched a charity rummage sale held last weekend to benefit victims of a Round Lake Beach house fire. So volunteers organized by Lake Villa's Good Shepherd Lutheran Church will restage the event this weekend at a Round Lake Park home. The hours of the sale at 542 N. Ravine Drive (northwest of Hainesville Road and Washington Street) are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 1, 2 and 3, with an auction from noon to 3 p.m. Saturday. Donations of sale items or money may be dropped off at the home, or by calling Judith Karr at 546-6373. So far, donors include the Lutheran Brotherhood, Nix's Furniture-Round Lake, Kentucky Fried Chicken-Round Lake Beach, Eagle Food Store-Round Lake Beach, the Round Lake Men's Club, and Rockenbach autos-Grayslake.

Youth to appear on TV's 'Full House'

MUNDELEIN—Jimmy Bruno of Mundelein will appear on the hit television show "Full House," Nov. 17. The eight-year-old will act as one of the pilgrims in the show's fictional kids show. Jimmy, who has been acting since he was three and a half, has been in numerous national commercials. The road to "Full House" started last December when he read a Christmas letter on the Jenny Jones Show. In the letter, he said his first wish was to be on "Full House." With the help of Jenny Jones, his wish came true.

Dear Parents:

Those of us involved in the Child Care Coalition of Lake County have long been aware that family issues play a major role in all our lives. Now that families have become a major concern of both political parties, it is a perfect opportunity to use this energy to make a difference for children and their families in Lake County.

The Child Care Coalition of Lake County, a non-profit organization, has been involved in laying the ground work for positive change for more than three years by:

- Promoting public policies for quality child care
- Identifying child care needs
- Advocating for safe, affordable child care
- Developing and implementing parent/community education
- Fostering communication among employers, agencies, providers and public officials.

We are pleased that Lakeland Newspapers has joined with us in providing a monthly forum for community awareness about the needs of children and their families. Should you have questions or issues you wish addressed, contact us at Child Care Coalition of Lake County, P.O. Box 1252, Highland Park, IL 60035.

Sincerely,

Demonstration

Members of the Quality Alliance for Early Childhood Care and Education settings and other child care advocates demonstrated at the State of Illinois Center on Sept. 17 to protest the funding cuts which jeopardize both day care quality and subsidies in Illinois. As a direct result of the demonstration, representatives of the Quality Alliance were to meet with the governor's aides on Sept. 25 to discuss possible solutions to the state's current crisis in child care.

Demonstrators picket outside of State of Illinois building

Q: Who are these people?

A: We are the parents and providers (and our children) from the Illinois Alliance for Quality Early Childhood Settings, a coalition of more than 120 organizations, child care providers and others concerned about the day care delivery system in Illinois.

Q: Why are they protesting?

A: We are protesting the inadequate budget and impending layoffs at the Department of Children and Family Services that jeopardize child day care quality and day care subsidies for low-income working families in Illinois.

A nearly $20 million DCFS budget shortfall is scheduled to result in massive layoffs of department day care licensing staff. With fewer monitoring staff, child day care facilities in Illinois may only be inspected for safety, sanitation and good care once every two years. Remaining licensing staff will have unbearable workloads and additional responsibilities that would create a dangerous conflict of interest.

Unfortunately, DCFS has stated publicly that it has no intentions of seeking a supplemental appropriation from the General Assembly that would allow it to carry out all its responsibilities to Illinois children and families. Instead, it will ask for permission to find the needed staffing dollars from elsewhere in the DCFS budget.

Due to its court-ordered obligations to the child welfare or foster care system, DCFS may attempt to take the needed funds out of existing day care subsidies that benefit low-income working families and from "Parents Too Soon" programs (Continued on next page)

GOOD BEGINNINGS NEVER END Lakeland Newspapers

The Importance of Licensing in Ensuring Quality Child Care

Patricia Goodman, Child Care Coalition of Lake County Vice President

On August 14, 1992, in the "Good Beginnings Never End" Child Care Supplement, Lakeland Newspapers printed the views of five Lake County legislators about the importance of quality, affordable child day care.

These five public officials were responding to questions asked of all of our Lake County legislators. Those who responded were John Matijevich, Virginia Fiester Frederick, Robert W. Churchill, William Peterson and Grace Mary Stern.

All agreed that the state of Illinois has an important role in assuring quality, affordable child care for working parents, and all agreed that they consider this issue to be a high priority for them.

Since, indeed, quality and affordability are the key components in a viable child day care system, we must all face the fact that the State of Illinois is in big trouble. The Illinois Alliance for Quality Early Childhood Settings has compiled a child care issue fact sheet which details the current crisis affecting every family in Illinois today. This fact sheet is being reprinted for your information.

Learning the ABCs of Child Care and Family Work Issues

Learning the ABCs of Child Care and Family Work Issues is the focus of a series of workshops with employers, sponsored by the United Way of Lake County and the Child Care Coalition of Lake County, to address work/family policies.

Recognizing that work-family-care issues have become more critical as families attempt to cope with child and elder care, these workshops will offer the following topics:

- Educating Management on Child Care & Family/Work Issues, on Oct. 14.
- Workplace Flexibility/Flex Time, on Nov. 14.

Key employers involved in this collaborative effort include Kemper, Tenneco Automotive, Motorola, IBM, Allstate, Baxter Labs, Abbott Labs, YWCA of Lake County, Benefit Trust Life Insurance and Quill Corp.

The Child Care Coalition of Lake County is delighted with the commitment and enthusiasm these major employers have shown and the wealth of information they will bring to the participants.

For more information, contact Sally Foster, United Way of Lake County at 816-0063.

Demonstrators

(Continued from preceding page) for pregnant and parenting teens — cynically pitting foster children against working parents and pregnant teenagers.

Q: What do you want?
A: The General Assembly must provide additional funding and staff to DCFS so that it may carry out all its responsibilities to foster children and working families and pregnant teenagers.

The General Assembly must instruct DCFS to preserve a quality child day care licensing program in Illinois.

Booklet aids with child care

Are you looking for someone to care for your child or children while you work, someone who will be affectionate, stimulating, competent and dependable?

Mary Poppins may be fictional, but child care providers are available who can meet your needs.

A new booklet, "Child Care Choices," can help you choose among the day care centers, family day care homes, baby sitters and in-home care givers. It tells you what to look for, suggests questions to ask and offers resources to assist you.

"Child Care Choices" is not yet in print, but the Lakeland Papers is pleased to present its contents for you in a format that will allow you to compile your own booklet. Nine installments will follow, one each week.

CHILD CARE CHOICES

Half the mothers of children under six years of age in Illinois are employed, with more than 450,000 of those children getting some form of day care. A New Trier Township study showed that 2/3 of the children receiving child care there received it from at least two different sources.

A nationwide study of working mothers by the National Council of Jewish Women Center for the Child proved what we all knew: finding high quality, dependable care for their children is a significant problem.

State licensing guarantees parents that child care providers meet minimum standards for training, facilities and procedures. But parents need to make their own evaluations to be sure the providers meet their standards.

Parent evaluations become even more critical in selecting care givers who are license exempt, and 2/3 of the Illinois children receiving child care are getting it from unlicensed providers. This booklet was designed as a tool for parents to use in making their child care choices.

"Child Care Choices" is a joint project of the National Council of Jewish Women (NCJW), North Shore Section, and the Child Care Coalition of Lake County.

Special thanks go to Barbara Haley of the Lake County Health Department and president of the Coalition, for health and safety basics; to Patricia Goodman, a child care consultant, formerly with the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, for content suggestions and proofreading; to Donna Loundy of NCJW, for compiling and editing the booklet; to Tom Barr of Lakeland Papers for serializing the booklet and making the galley available for our use; and to the Rhode Island Section of NCJW, which inspired this effort.

Child care fact sheet answers questions

Dismantling of Licensing Office/Staff, Jeopardized Subsidies pose Latest Threats To Illinois Day Care System

Over the past several months, many in the Illinois child care community have grown increasingly concerned over a Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS) that has repeatedly assigned a low priority status to child day care issues and endangered the quality of day care for the children of Illinois.

DCFS has focused so much of its administrative and budget energies to court-ordered reforms of the state's troubled child welfare or foster care system that it appears unwilling and unable to administer a quality child day care system.

Ironically, Illinois' day care system is one of the state's most successful anti-child abuse and family preservation policies, and its erosion will only add to the state's child welfare woes.

ISSUE: Faced with laying off over 300 staff due to an approximate $20 million budget shortfall, DCFS has announced layoffs of as many as 73 licensing staff (including about 35% of the entire professional staff). These people are charged with ensuring that child care programs meet at least minimal standards of safety, sanitation and care. In addition, remaining licensing staff now will be asked to perform additional, but conflicting, duties.

Why Is Licensing and Licensing Staff Important?

- Licensing protects children by establishing minimum standards of safety, sanitation, nutrition, care and education. Violation of licensing is often cited in cases of death by fire, child abuse, and injuries to children at child care settings.
- Licensing staff is charged with monitoring a program's compliance with these minimal protections. Licensing staff monitor the safety of a program's environment, ensure that there are enough qualified adults to supervise children, and respond to complaints by parents.

Why Are Licensing Cut-Backs Harmful?

Remaining Staff Will Have Unbearable and Dangerous Work Loads.

After the layoffs, a single licensing representative will be responsible for licensing and monitoring about 155 day-care facilities, containing about 7,600 children, instead of the 56 centers or 104 homes that DCFS says is the acceptable workload standard.

Licensing representatives will be unable to do much more than pass through each facility once every two years. There will be no time for interim monitoring, annual license review visits, technical advice to providers, or investigation of parental complaints.

Licensing Staff Will Be Under Pressure to Relax Enforcement of Child Protections.

- In a cost-cutting move, the central Office of Licensing which is responsible for implementation, enforcement, training of staff and quality control has been abolished.
- In addition, DCFS now will expect its regional staff to both expand the supply of care in their area and to uphold licensing standards, creating a potentially harmful conflict of interest.

There is a natural tension between expanding the supply of day care and upholding licensing standards. An easy way to create more child care "slots" is to relax or ignore licensing standards and allow overcrowding, under-staffing and under-equipping of child care settings. However, research shows that these cost-cutting, slot-expanding measures exact a lasting toll on children's development and endanger their health and safety.

ISSUE: Different populations of needy children and families are being pitted against each other in the DCFS budget.

DCFS has stated publicly that it has no intention of asking the General Assembly for additional funding so that it may carry out all its responsibilities to Illinois children and families. Instead, it will seek permission to find the money needed for adequate staffing from elsewhere in the DCFS budget.

If given that permission, there is every indication that DCFS will take the needed staffing dollars from existing day care subsidies for low income working families and from "Parents Too Soon" programs for pregnant and parenting teenagers.

ISSUE: These latest developments join the following list of other disturbing incidents at DCFS:

- Day care program positions at DCFS previously filled by staff with years of child care and development experience have been redefined as "term appointments" and now can be filled by people with little or no background in child development or child care policy.
- Top day care jobs within DCFS have gone unfilled for months.

Illinois Must Renew Its Commitment to Quality Child Day Care

- Illinois must maintain a quality licensing program by (1) restoring DCFS licensing personnel, and (2) preserving the integrity of licensing by reinstating a central licensing office and separating licensing duties from supply or resource development duties.
- Staffing restorations must not come at the expense of other desperately-needed services for Illinois families. The DCFS budget must not pit foster children against pregnant teens and working parents.

- Day care issues need to be given higher priority by the public policy officials. For more information, call (312) 769-8020 or write to: Child Care Coalition of Lake County, PO Box 1252, Highland Park, Ill., 60035.

Agency reps gather insight at Corps site

Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency Director Bruce Bossow's eyes widened as he listened to engineer Jack Fowler make a presentation on shoreline and bank creation at the Waterway's Experimental Station in Vicksburg, Miss.

"This is a very similar method that I had proposed to the board several months ago," said Bossow. "This is indeed an exciting development."

Through the assistance of Lt. Col. Randall Inouye of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for the Chicago area, a meeting was scheduled with the Corps engineering staff in Vicksburg.

Lt. Col. David Reed, who now heads the Chicago District Office, is supporting the efforts for cooperatively addressing the deterioration of Grass Lake and designing solutions and restoration. He sent Brian Smith, one of his engineers, to accompany the group on their visit. The experimental station is headquarters for the entire nation and addresses unique situations, which the silt material in Grass Lake has proven to be.

Tom Patin, engineering chief of dredging operations for the Corps, asked six of his senior staff engineers to join with the Waterway Agency delegation. They spent the entire day Sept. 25 addressing the problem and proposing solutions.

Dr. Mary Landin, an engineer, headed the conference. Engineers Dr. Michael Palermo, Michael Trawle and Allen Hollis from the Experimental Station made presentations on various subjects to the group.

Waterway Agency directors Roy Gundelach, Wayne Blake and Judy Martini also attended the conference. Ron Baker, chairman of the Waterway Agency's Advisory Committee, joined the group along with Jon Lund, dredging chief for the agency. John Rogner, director of U.S. Fish and Wildlife in northern Illinois, made a key presentation with regard to addressing restoration and wildlife-island creation in Grass Lake.

"I was told that if a resolution is ever to be reached, it would be necessary to involve the engineers at the Vicksburg Army Corps Headquarters," said Dr. William Dam, chairman of the Waterway Agency. "If Mississippi is where the solutions are, Mississippi is where I want to be."

A task force is to be created following the upcoming SAMP (Strategic Area Management Plan) meeting in McHenry.

The task force will prepare initial design and cost estimates. Both Landin and Palermo from the Vicksburg facility have offered to serve on the committee and come to the area after preliminary review.

"This may be the answer we were looking for," said Blake. "I only wish this had been done seven years ago."

Karen Kabbes, an engineer and consultant for the Waterway Agency, made the summary remarks for the group in Vicksburg. She has been asked by Dam to coordinate the planning efforts of all the agencies involved.

Dam thanked Bossow for using his private plane to take the directors to Vicksburg. This saved the agency over $3,000.

"A smoke detector decreases the chance of being killed in a home fire by more than 50 percent," said Frankson.

Frankson adds that other common sense adjustments can make the difference between living or becoming a statistic during a fire.

According to Frankson, prepare an escape plan for your home. Make sure there are at least two ways out of every room, and don't forget to practice.

Finally, check around the house for any possible fire hazards. Make sure, said Frankson, that electrical outlets aren't overloaded and that electrical extension cords are in good condition, not frayed.

If statistics are an indicator, according to the Fire Prevention Bureau, it is likely that you will be in a serious fire at least once in your lifetime. Prevention is an ongoing project, not just a one week on October affair.

Baby makes six

Did I say that all the new babies' births I have reported as of date have been baby girls?

Well the birth of Dawn and David Fedderly's fourth child, now third son has broken that cycle. Little Alexander "Alex" Hans Fedderly was born at 9:56 a.m. on Sept. 6. He weighed in at six pounds even and was 19 1/2 inches long. Waiting anxiously at home to help spoil their new little brother are five year old Michael, four year old Eric and two year old Stephanie.

Once again grandma and grandpa, Don and Donna Marsich are very happy to be grandparents and also enjoy the role of spoiling Dawn and David's four precious little children very much. Congratulations to you all.

Embarrassing moment

I recently visited my beautiful "adopted," step daughter, Cynthia Marquart, at her new home on the chain.

Cindy and her family recently relocated in the Grass Lake area to a home on the water. In so doing they spit-shined their new residence and decorated it beautifully in western motif.

As I approached the door I had stepped in some mud and did not realize it. I normally kick off my shoes when I enter someone's house (and they usually don't have mud on them). In my eagerness to get a closer look at her beautiful living room, I did not follow my usual procedure. I walked directly down the middle of her very light, silver gray carpeting and you did not have to be an expert tracker to find me as I left a nasty trail of mud prints behind me.

When alerted to what I did I scrambled to remove my shoes before doing further damage, apologized for the mess, and secretly vowed to tell everyone how beautiful Cindy's house was via "Hometown Goodies" in an effort to make up for my stupidity. Luckily the carpet was stain treated and a damp towel removed all tell-tale signs that "The Lizard" had visited. One more time, sorry for the mess and you did a marvelous job decorating your new home. Be proud!

Aglow fellowship

Eva Dooley will be the guest speaker at the Thursday, Oct. 8, dinner meeting of the Antioch Chapter of the Women's Aglow Fellowship. Reservations are a must and have to be prepaid by Oct. 3.

The dinner meeting will once again be held at Hoff's Columbia Bay Restaurant on Highway 59 in Lake Villa. The doors open at 6 p.m. and dinner will be served promptly at 6:30 p.m. For reservations and information contact Edith Gibbs at 395-8195.

Little buddy

Recently little five year old Bobby Klean of Antioch called to thank me for putting his birthday mention in the column. During the conversation he told me he was doing fine in kinder-

Friendly phone call

Once again I am re-garden and has the same teacher his brother Ricky had. He also expects to have one of the same teachers his sister Tracy had when he gets to first or second grade.

Then he told me he had a dilemma on his hands—how to get all of the dog mess off of his shoe. I gave him a few suggestions, he listened intently and went off to accomplish the not so nice task at hand. Thanks for calling Bob and keep up the good work in the "Big School." Once again out of the mouths of babes.

More 4-H

son, Jennine Adamek, Michelle Addison, Paul Addison, Chandra Kotly, Missy Flood, Erica Stroka, Christie Otto, Kelly Carney, Jeff Lancioni, Sheri Lungren, Amanda Miller, Eileen Munch, Meagan Petraitis, Hannah Olsen, David Otterness and Mike Richards.

Michelle and her husband, Tim, are kept very busy raising their two little daughters, Amanda and Mary Kate. Amanda is proud to have finally conquered potty training and equally as proud that little Mary Kate is now sitting up all by herself. Amanda is anxiously awaiting the time when her baby sister can walk, talk and play with her even more.

Amanda is proud to have finally conquered potty training and equally as proud that little Mary Kate is now sitting up all by herself. Thanks for calling, Michelle and keep up the good work of raising those two precious angels. Call again as I am always in the market of friendly conversation with a special, nice person, such as yourself.

Cute story

Okay, I confess. If I have no plans to go anywhere nor am expecting anyone, I will often putts and lounge around the house taking no heed to dressing decently nor combing my hair.

On this particular evening "The Lizard" actually beautified herself because she was "going out." Naturally I showered, washed my hair and even curled it, put on a decent outfit and applied makeup.

After all of this was accomplished there was a knock at the back door and when I opened it, little seven year old Kjersten Martens was standing there. I told her I could not "come out to play" because I was going "bye-bye." Her reply was "I can tell and I like the way your hair looks."

Soon my daughter Karen came in and wanted to know where I was going. I asked her why she thought I was going anywhere and she said "Ma, June Cleaver you are not. You never wear makeup unless you are going out." Well at least I'm predictable.

PM&L

The Cole Porter musical "Anything Goes" will be opening at the PM&L Theatre in Antioch on Oct. 2. Anyone attending the opening night performance is invited to attend the traditional opening night champagne party.

The scheduled show dates are Oct. 2, 3, 9, 10, 16 and 17 at 8 p.m. and Oct. 4, 11 and 18 at 2:30 p.m. Reservations are a must. Call 395-3055 for reservations.

Audition notice

Auditions for "A Christmas Carol" will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 5, 6, and 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the PM&L, 877 Main St., Antioch. For information call Lou Jones at 546-1889.

Thanks

Thanks to the caller from Oxford, Ga. who surprised me with a special birthday message phoned into "Lip Service." It was definitely a pleasant surprise. It had to be the Victor Bennett family who relocated from our area to Georgia about five years ago. Keep reading.

Happy birthday

Well it won't be long and those little ghosts and goblins will be knocking on your doors yelling "Trick or Treat." Time for moms everywhere to start sewing those Halloween costumes.

It is also time for Lizard's monthly birthday list. Happy October Birthday to Leslie Bennett, Don Bergl, Jamie Brausam, Christy Charvat, Cathy Chinn, Tiffany Christopolus, Brian Dembinski, Larry Edelman Jr., Russ Fairchild, Marc Fechtner, Dan Filips, Angie Grob, Sara Groh, Ryan Hansen, Dina Izenstartk, Justin Kasprzak, Eddie Lindstrom, Cari Maloof.

After an eleven-year hiatus, the National Football League, with the help of Gatorade, Sears and Skybox Trading Cards, has brought back one of the most popular sports competitions of the '60s and '70s, Punt, Pass and Kick.

The return of the pre-eminent sports marketing and football skills test brought 20 area youngsters, ages 8 to 13, to Gibbs/Slove Park in Lindenhurst to compete despite a cold wind and driving rain.

"I wish the weather would have been better," said Lindenhurst Park District Events Coordinator Dawn Weber, spokesperson for the local event.

Local winners of each age group, who punted, passed and kicked for accuracy and distance, will advance to the Northern Illinois Region Sectional competition in Buffalo Grove on Oct. 10, with a chance to compete at a Chicago Bears game later in November or December. National finalists will compete against the best in their age group at either the American Football Conference Championship game or at the Pro Bowl in Hawaii the first week of February.

Scores were based on the addition of the three event's distances in feet and inches. Accuracy became important because the distance the ball landed to the left or the right of the measuring tape was deducted from the overall distance of the punted, passed or kicked ball. For example, a ball that landed 10 feet wide of the tape, would have 10 feet deducted from the distance the ball traveled from the starting line.

Antognoli lead all participants with a score of 197 feet, 4 inches.

Air Hughes sings Antioch secondary in 26-0 win

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

It was raining in Antioch on Saturday, but not just cats and dogs as Warren's offense exploded for three long passing touchdowns as the Blue Devils ran past Antioch 26-0.

Warren quarterback Mark Leginski singled Antioch's defense by completing seven of 13 passes for 183 yards and three touchdowns. The win improved Warren's record to 3-1 (2-1) and drowned Antioch's playoff chances as they dropped to 0-4 (0-4).

Warren will face the Mundelein Mustangs 0-4 (0-4) this week during the school's Homecoming football game at 1 p.m. Saturday. Antioch hopes to rebound at Rockford Auburn in a 2 p.m. start.

"They ripped our defensive secondary apart," said Antioch Coach Del Pechauer. "I didn't think they could do that. He (Leginski) is a good quarterback."

With passing attack on Saturday reminiscent of the San Diego Charger teams of the early '80s, Warren Head Coach Reggie Hughes showed other North Suburban Conference rivals that his team can adapt to almost any adversity.

"We thought we could pass in the rain," said Hughes. "We worked on throwing a lot this week."

During the game however, Antioch had chances to score on its first few possessions which all ended in Warren territory.

The Blue Devils drew first blood with nearly nine minutes left in the second quarter when Warren running back Gary Weir riffled through the heart of the Antioch defense for a 77-yard touchdown run.

Disaster struck Antioch again when just before the half, Quintin Jackson blocked an Antioch punt which resulted in a Warren possession on the Antioch 33 yard line. Leginski wasted no time finding running back Bob Olson on a screen pass, which resulted in Olson breaking several tackles before reaching the end zone on a 27-yard touchdown play.

Warren next score came early in the third quarter when the Blue Devils drove 70 yards on their first possession of the half to score on a 31-yard touchdown strike from Leginski to a wide-open Ryan Taylor (5 catches for 143 yards).

The Blue Devil quarterback teamed up with his favorite target again in the fourth quarter when he launched a 43-yard missile to Taylor with nearly 10:30 left in the game. A two-yard point after touchdown conversion from Leginski to Andy Strahan ended Warren's point total at 26.

"We needed this game," said Hughes after the game. "But, Antioch has got a good football team. They have just had an unbelievable early season schedule."

Letter to the Editor

$600,000 deficit

Editor:
Antioch Community High School doesn't have to put a referendum before the voters in November.

The proposed referendum increase would result in a $300 increase in the tax bill for the owner of a home valued at $130,000.

The $600,000 could be saved by simply retiring eight employees.

Their salaries are:
$88,071, $73,928,
$73,928, $72,799,

$72,037, $71,939, $71,812 and $71,841. These combined salaries total $596,355. Ask yourself why the school board hasn't thought of this. "Simple. They don't think."

The school board wouldn't dare cut the fat from the layers and layers of bureaucrats in the school. There is an old saying: "Power corrupts, absolute power corrupts absolutely." The arrogance of the wealthy and powerful school board members will be met with the all powerful "vote."

The $600,000 deficit is in the education fund. That's the fund that pays the salaries. The deficit is from the bloated salaries.

Retire eight employees now and save the cost in thousands to the taxpayers plus the embarrassment of another failed referendum. Referendums cost the taxpayers thousands of dollars.

Fall foliage turning just in time for Spoon River scenic drive

Fall foliage is turning brilliant colors in Fulton County, Ill. to welcome visitors to the Spoon River Valley Scenic Drive the first two weekends of October. Arts, crafts, foods, demonstrations, displays of antiques, costumes, quilts, cars, historical materials, and Edgar Lee Masters memorabilia are all being readied for visitors to Spoon River Scenic Drive Oct. 3, 4, 10 and 11.

London Mills at the northwest origin of Spoon River Scenic Drive will host the ribbon cutting for the 25th anniversary celebration on Saturday, Oct. 3, at 9 a.m. at the Spoon River Bridge. All officers, founders, past and present queens, Artist David Badger, and others wishing to help celebrate the 25th anniversary are invited to the ribbon cutting at 9 a.m. in London Mills.

Also featured in London Mills will be the famous applebutter making, caramel corn in a kettle, root beer making, lamb kabobs, many other mouthwatering foods, and a Civil War encampment along Spoon River. Homemade pies will be prepared by London Mills Community Association. Many crafts and antiques create an active marketplace in the streets near the restored Ross Hotel and Riverside Park in London Mills.

Some special entertainment is planned for the Spoon River Fall Festival. Smithfield Red Brick School will feature a presentation of Masters' "Spoon River Anthology Revisited" with music and recitations by Chico Welch and cast for a small admission fee on Oct. 10 and 11. On all four days of the Fall Festival there will be free entertainment at Smithfield School with Sheryl Svihla, Bill Fineran, Doug Eten, Chico Welch, and Floyd Webb. Tasty chicken noodles dinners and homemade ice cream will be served in the cafeteria at Smithfield Red Brick School.

Waterford plans to have Belgian horse and wagon rides at Orchard Hill Farm. Demonstrations of old time crafts, wood carving, and duck and turkey calls will be parts of the entertainment at Waterford near Dickson Mounds Museum. Fresh produce will be ready.

Lewistown will have activities and many arts and crafts at the Fulton County Fairgrounds, at the Lewistown Presbyterian Church, at the Lewistown Depot on Eisenhower Street, and the main Spoon River Scenic Drive information booth at the north end of Main Street. Brick House Antiques will have woodworking, crafts, display of antique knives, an upstairs Halloween House Tour, and a houseful of antiques. Prairie Caramel Corn will be made outdoors at the Brick House by settlers in prairie costumes.

Cuba Town Square will have demonstrations of hide tanning, leather crafts, lathe turning, scroll sawing, corn shelling, and two antique engines. The Senior Citizens Center will host a quilt show. The Masonic Hall will feature water color paintings by Cuba artist Floyd Lowary and a 10 x 30 foot mural depicting the history of Cuba painted by the late Harold Kee Welch, known artist who designed the original Spoon River Scenic Drive logo. Old time musical entertainment in the Cuba Square will be played by Jim Welch and Bill Fineran on banjo and autoharp. Local merchants will have displays. Man good foods will be served in the Cuba Square and Masonic Lodge, Christian Church and United Methodist Church. Pleasant Row Orchard at the north edge of Cuba will host a large display of antique tractors and fresh orchard produce and cider.

Widen Route 22

Anyone who is against the widening of Route 22, Half Day Road, has got to be insane. I'm from Lincolnshire and I think that something has to be done about the traffic on Route 22. It's terribly backed up in the morning and evening. On Saturdays, if you try to drive to the Tollway, it's maddening. I think Route 22 should be widened and done soon. Thank you.

Call TCI

Hello. I'm a Round Lake customer of TCI of Illinois and have had quite enough of their interruptions in my cable. I am so angry, I called TCI and asked whom, we as viewers, could call or write to. His name is Mr. Rick Tuttle, care of TCI of Illinois, 2508-A West Route 120, McHenry, Ill. 60050. If you're as fed up as I am, give him a call or write him a letter. I've had enough.

Special People

I'd like to tell you about a very special group of people. How do I know they are special? I know because I used to work with them. I was one of the 200-plus teacher assistants who work for the special education district of Lake County. They serve a wide variety of disabilities ranging from physically challenged, behaviorally disordered, socially-emotionally disturbed and visually and hearing impaired. They feed, diaper, position, interpret, carry out therapy techniques, educate and discipline. In many cases they are hit, slapped, spit on, bit, bruised and scratched. Their clothes torn, glasses broken and suffer back and knee injuries. They serve as educators, care givers, therapists and, in many cases, referees. They are overworked and work in understaffed classrooms, but through all of this, they still return year after year. They are not uneducated people who cannot find other work, nor are they housewives trying to earn a little extra spending money. They are there because they care about the children of Lake County with special needs. They care this much and do all this for under $7,000 a year before taxes. They have no retirement plan, are exempt from the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, and, in some cases, more than half of their paycheck goes to health insurance. They are presently working without a contract, and negotiations are not moving favorably. They need your support. If you are a parent of a child with special needs, or know someone who is, please let the administrators of the special education district of Lake County know how important you think these people are. I know they are worth a lot more than they are given. I hope you'll agree. I'm from the village of Gurnee.

Bad television

I'd like to know if there are other people who feel the same way myself and my friend do. We're tired of seeing television having everything imaginable on it. We can't have our children watch any shows past 7 p.m. Even before then, it becomes really hard to find anything that doesn't talk about French kissing or condoms in the name of comedy. They put this in all the time. We keep telling each other we're not prudes. We'd like to know if there's other people out there who also agree with us that this is inappropriate viewing, and when this is going to stop. We realize that if someone starts to complain to the station, this might make a difference. So, if there is anyone out there who feels the same way we do, we would like to see the language and the situation cleaned up on television.

Vernon Hills Desert

All the village parks are almost completely void of trees. Not a single playground in any of the parks has shaded areas for the parents to enjoy while watching their kids. Now they have plans to destroy the last wooded area in Vernon Hills, south of the new, yet to be completed, swimming pool. They have plans to uproot those trees and put there a few more bare and empty football and baseball fields. We already have numerous such fields that are empty and ugly 300 days a year. Fortunately, they ran out of money and could not build those fields. Let's keep them poor, and also make sure they, the Park District, doesn't have the money in the future to destroy the last beautiful corner in Vernon Hills.

Bury the Cable

Hi. I'm calling about your article in the Sept. 18 edition called "TCI Cable is Scam." We had our cable installed Dec. 28 of 1991. And the man who installed the cable said that since we were one of the first people having it installed, when the ground was frozen, would be one of the first people to have it buried in the spring. So, starting in May of 1992, I've been calling every month telling them that my cable has not been buried, and asked them when it would be buried. They have told me that they have more than 200 people on our list who need our cable buried. That's all I get from them. I don't get a "when." I don't get a "how long." I don't get a "you're now No. 2 or No. 4." It's a pain in the rear having this cable lie across my one-third of an acre yard. I have five dogs in my yard that get caught on it, chew on it. I have a 16-month old baby that trips on it. I have a young man who cuts my lawn and runs over it if forget to put it over the fence. He said that his father had to bury the cable on his own because TCI has not come out to bury the cable. What I want to know is: "Has anyone received satisfaction from TCI when it comes to having their cable buried? If so, I'd like to know who I can talk to at TCI, or someone outside of TCI who has some authority on getting these cables buried. It has become a hazard and a nuisance in my yard. I'm calling from unincorporated McHenry, and I'd appreciate a comment from anyone who might help.

Repeat of Foxway?

Now that the Illinois Dept. of Transportation has backed off in efforts to extend the controversial Fox Valley Expressway north to the Wisconsin stateline, opponents of the equally controversial extension of Rte. 53 into central Lake County undoubtedly are wondering if renewed efforts will be equally as effective.

Republican leadership working in consort with developers and big business interests to push for Foxway paid a heavy price and the fall-out won't be known in its entirety until the Nov. 3 votes are counted. State Sen. Jack Schaeffer, an able official and Foxway point man for the governor's office, lost a bid for a congressional nomination, mostly because of opposition to the proposed highway. Albert Jourdan, state Republican chairman, got the message. To protect his reelection bid as McHenry County auditor, Jourdan took to the public prints to announce a change-of-heart and recommend that existing highways be improved.

McHenry GOP leaders obviously misread the depth of opposition to the Opponents of Rte. 53 are wondering if they can repeat success of McHenry County residents who knocked out Fox Valley road.

highway that would have opened up central and north McHenry County to unpopular commercial and residential development. They took the same tack that has emboldened State Rep. Robert Churchill and other Lake County GOP leaders to push for Rte. 53, that the new freeway from Lake-Cook Rd. to Grayslake will relieve worsening traffic congestion and encourage economic development.

Expressway opponents in McHenry County voiced the same argument that energized Rte. 53 foes in Lake County, that the proposed highway isn't a solution to transportation problems, but a magnet for further development.

While the similarities between plans for Rte. 53 and Foxway might be striking, the facts are that the Lake County project has been on the drawing board much longer, highway opposition is fragmented and the stakes, meaning who owns the land and controls development, are infinitely higher. In another perspective, McHenry County will get to keep its country atmosphere while Lake County takes another step toward Schaumburg North.

Get lost, Ross

If Ross Perot announces this week that his on-again, off-again candidacy is back on again, the question "What does Ross want?" may be the wrong question to ask.

Instead, voters should ask, "Does Ross want the same thing his supporters want?" And more importantly for Lake County voters, "What do his supporters want—from Phil Crane, John Porter and Carol Moseley Braun?"

The speculation from national pundits is that Perot's re-entry won't be aimed at winning the White House, but at strengthening his stature as a power-broker. The theory is that Perot will climb in the polls just enough so that his endorsement of one the two real candidates will do optimum damage to the other one—presumably, George Bush, whom Perot is known to dislike.

In Lake County, the grassroots campaign-workers who comprise the pro-Perot group "United We Stand" bristle at the suggestion that their efforts will again prove hollow. Betty Root of Gurnee, a Lake County United We Stand leader, says if Perot re-enters the race, "it's to win—not to swing the vote, not to be a spoiler." If Perot were to run only to position himself for an endorsement, his followers would be mighty upset. In fact, they would "eviscerate" (disembowel) him, according to Dick Pierce, deputy director of United We Stand for Northern Illinois.

But even as local Perot-backers downplay their man's interest in playing the endorsement game, endorsements are exactly the card they intend to play in Lake County's congressional races.

Root and other United We Stand organizers are meeting with the contenders for the 8th Congressional District seat, Phil Crane (R) and challenger Sheila Smith (D), and 10th District candidates John Porter (R) and Michael J. Kennedy (D). Other United We Stand committees are sizing up U.S. Senate opponents Braun

Re-entry is not an attempt at winning, but strengthening his nature as a power broker

(D) and Rich Williamson (R), as well as Illinois General Assembly contests.

After Root and co. feel out how the candidates fall in line with Perot's economic ideas, they will announce their endorsements in mid-October. In the House of Representatives races, the Perotists seem to be leaning toward incumbents Crane and Porter. In the Braun-Williamson matchup, they're undecided, turned off by that race's mudslinging.

However they lean, the United We Standers have found a way to turn the ambiguous nature of Perot's un-candidacy into a solid forum for influencing state and federal legislative races. They are to be applauded for transforming political disgust into positive involvement.

Perot himself is not.

While his supporters have faith in the sincerity of his run, we don't. We also doubt the value of him entering the race at this late date.

It is pointless to run as an "alternative" candidate when the two major-party candidates present a clear ideological choice. With his prima-donna act, Perot has not earned a candidacy. But he has earned the minimal stature necessary to direct his supporters toward a real candidate by making an endorsement.

To avoid betraying the dedication of his grass-roots followers in Lake County and throughout the country—and hoodwinking them not once but twice in a campaign season—Perot should endorse now or forever hold his peace.

Viewpoint

Gag rule curbs judicial foes from speaking

by BILL SCHROEDER

Two opponents for a public office in the Nov. 3 election aren't discussing issues and they're not expressing viewpoints. Their public utterances are bland and non-controversial. Their hands are tied by ethics rules that have been held to be constitutional.

So what voters are getting in the race between Henry Tonigan and Terrance Brady is a patty-cake campaign. Pass the oatmeal.

Tonigan, a Republican, and Brady, a Democrat, are two associate judges contesting for election to a full Circuit Court judgeship. They are abiding by a rule stating that any candidate for judicial office should not make pledges or promises of conduct other than the faithful and impartial performance of his or her duties as a judge. The candidate also must not announce views on disputed legal or political issues.

Mr. Nice Guys, both Brady and Tonigan are on the campaign trail, making all the parades, shaking a lot of hands and smiling a lot. The contest for Circuit Court is a popularity contest in the purist sense.

What in the world do they talk about when voters ask them what's going on? "Not a whole lot," admitted Brady, 51, a resident of Libertyville. "I talk about my record and my experience." The engaging jurist said he mentions his "life experience" and brings up, hopefully, the age factor. He's older than Tonigan.

With a broad grin, Tonigan echoes his opponent's stance. "Terry is well qualified. He's a good guy," the Barrington area resident adds.

Stiff gag rules for judicial candidates undoubtedly are a response, in part, to failed efforts to establish merit selection of judges and a continuation of the election process, must to the dismay of reformists. So the election process for judges is so watered down as to be virtually meaningless to electors who have to make a choice. It's questionable whether voters are best served with a popularity contest.

Ethics rules have been challenged including a suit brought by the powerful American Civil Liberties Union on freedom of speech grounds, but they haven't gotten very far.

I don't know if I'm violating anything by relating a bit of history, but Brady ran once before for a full Circuit seat. Psst! He lost. Don't tell anyone, but that was nearly 20 years ago.

Wouldn't it be something if judicial candidates could make campaign pledges like, "I'll lock'em up and throw away the key." "Or I'll hang'em from the nearest tree." Guaranteed. Those kind of pronouncements would get attention. No wonder voters are turned off about political campaigns these days when the process swings from tweedle-dee contests to outrageous, slam-bang races that offend everyone.

Letters to the Editor

Calabresa irresponsible

Editor:

Had Rep. Carol Calabresa stopped at characterizing events as "political" it would have been refreshingly reasonable and not challenged since anything done on the floor can fairly be characterized so. She went much farther! She opined that Dr. Potstic's resignation exemplified the "corruption" now involved, etc.

Mr. Editor, accusing people of being corrupt goes far beyond claiming political motivation or an honest disagreement on an issue—it, at least, connotes evil and dishonesty, and in general discussion, criminality! When a member starts throwing such accusations he or she should be prepared to substantiate them.

Member Calabresa has practiced this form of slightly masked slander for the last twenty months at several board meetings. I called upon her to "either put up or shut up." In other words, if you can prove your accusations, do so; if not, then be decent enough to hold your tongue.

Several board members approached me after the meeting and thanked me for challenging Calabresa's irresponsible mudslinging. No, not just commissioners whom you regularly characterize as evil incarnate—but also, just for example, members such as Robert Buhai, Democrat from Highland Park who congratulated me, and told me I had done a good job that needed to be done! He, of course, also offered the football tickets!

How can political officeholders expect respect from citizens if they cannot agree that they disagree because of honest difference of opinion rather than because the other person is corrupt, deceitful, dishonest, etc. Nobody owes Calabresa an apology. She owes every other board member an apology. When one member throws slanderous accusations as she does, a little of that "mud" sticks to everyone! Off the floor, she may be a lady, but on the floor she has conducted herself in a manner far from that of a lady! The challenge I did issue, I stand by! If she can substantiate her statements—do so, if not—admit it, and admit she overstepped the bounds of businesslike debate.

Court usurps authority

Editor:

I'm damned sick of so-called atheists conning Federal courts into illegal legislating against use of religious symbols by local government.

I'm not a lawyer, but I can read, The U.S. Constitution states: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

If Congress (our supreme legislative body) is forbidden to make such law, what right has a Federal court to decide what We, the People, can't do in that area. The limitations of the Constitution preclude Federal courts even hearing such cases. Jurisdiction, in this matter, belongs to We, the People, and our state and local governments.

church and state." There is no such guarantee. It's a myth. The Constitution guarantees only that Federal government has no authority to establish a national religion and is prohibited from interfering in the free exercise thereof.

Arrogant Federal courts, legislation where they have no jurisdiction, will promote disrespect for law and maybe, outright rebellion.

The whole matter impinges on the freedom of We, the People of the United States, our tranquillity and sense of justice beside the loss of the blessing of liberty.

Retire the Congress

Editor:

Vote for the Baby Boomers, Clinton and Gore. This is what the media is promoting. You'll hear "It's time for a change." Let the Baby Boomers face today's issues.

Well, the media can promote the candidates all they want—but, let's get down to the real problem. Congress.

Congress, strongly Democratic for the past 30 to 40 years, is the real issue we need to address. This is where "it is time for a change." This is where the decisions that run our country are made, and this is where we need to clean up.

Could it be that we are chasing the wrong rabbit, that where we need to make the changes is in our Congress?

The Presidency, possibly the most significant position held, is an eight year term. But Congress where the decisions are made, is an unlimited term. If we create a Congress elected every eight years, we would bring the votes that matter back to the people.

I propose a staggered election, half the Congress being elected every four years, and eliminating the seniority rule. I believe this is how we can truly make changes that matter—and return our country to the democracy by which it was founded: We The People.

Now as for the Electoral College? Well, that's a whole other story!

Builders get off cheap

Editor:

One of the highest developer impact fee deals made in Lake County was in Grayslake. Lexington and Pulte paid $3,600 per home for 1,713 homes. The density of the developments was however, increased from 1,600 to 1,713 homes in order to make the deal. Grayslake Community High School ended up with $1 million. Sounds good, doesn't it?

At an average of two children per home, this averages out to $291 per child. Today it costs $8,000 to put a child through high school. School impacts fees cannot be used for education or teachers salaries, only for construction costs.

There will be a $2 million deficit by the time Pulte and Lexington developments are built out, not including the $2.15 million generated annually to the school district in tax revenue. This is only a school synopsis. Other infrastructure is failing financially for the same reason. Taxpayers must not keep bearing the brunt of development costs through property tax nor should it be hidden in the other taxes such as state income tax or user fees.

The county board should propose state legislation for higher developer impact fees in areas of massive growth; and follow through by lobbying in Springfield to get the legislation passed to bring an end to our ever soaring tax bills.

I will do this and will encourage municipal leaders to do the same.

Speak for children

Editor:

The Prime Time television program revealing child care abuses and inadequacies at some centers in the United States, frightened parents into looking more closely at the State of Illinois child care licensing requirements. It is ironic that DCFS, the licensing agency, is now being forced to reduce the staff directly concerned with the welfare of children in foster care, child care homes and center.

In Lake and McHenry Counties, cutting on full-time staff persons by Oct. 1 will profoundly effect these services. It seems our priorities to serve children and families are not straight. Those who are least able to speak for themselves, suffer the most. Parents, foster parents, child care providers in homes and centers, please register to vote and write to your legislative representatives. Exercise your voice on behalf of the children in Illinois.

Apple fritters

- 1 cup flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 tsp. oil
- 1 apple, peeled and chopped
- oil for deep frying

Blend flour, baking powder and salt; add eggs, milk and 1 teaspoon oil. Beat until smooth, add apple and mix. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Fry until light golden in color, drain from oil. Roll in confectioners sugar or put some cinnamon in a little pancake syrup and heat. Pour over fritters.

Makes 8 to 10 fritters

Cinnamon apple rings

- 24 whole cloves
- 3 medium cooking apples, unpeeled, cored and cut into 1/2 inch rings
- 2 cups water
- 1 cup red cinnamon candies
- 1/2 cup sugar

Stick cloves into apple rings. Combine water and candies in a large skillet; bring to a boil, stirring until candies dissolve. Add apple rings; reduce heat, and simmer 5 minutes or just until apple rings are tender, turning several times.

Remove apple rings from skillet. Add sugar to skillet, and bring to a boil; boil 3 minutes. Pour syrup over apple rings, turning to glaze both sides. Cool slightly.

Makes 8 servings.

Corn bread

- 1 cup white flour
- 1 cup corn flour or fine cornmeal
- 2 Tbls. sugar
- 2 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 Tbls. melted butter
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Combine the white flour, corn flour or cornmeal, sugar, baking powder, and salt. In a separate bowl, beat the eggs; then stir in the milk and butter. Pour the wet ingredients into the dry ones, and stir just enough to combine, in about 15 or 16 strokes. Overmixing causes the corn bread to be tough. Pour into a buttered baking pan and bake until the corn bread is firm and a toothpick comes out clean, about 30 minutes.

Makes one 8 by 8-inch loaf.

GOP fights GOP for new voters

GOP VOTE BATTLE

This will be the last big weekend of countywide voter registration drives being conducted by the Republicans and Democrats.

There will be door-to-door canvasses. Every Wal-Mart will have a signup table. So will most Jewels and K Marts.

Republicans are touting 2,399 new voters last week alone. Democrats say they've signed up 1,300 since August. When it all ends next weekend the total should be 7,000 to 8,000 more since both parties began their campaigns in early August. Altogether, for the entire summer, the numbers are predicted to be 10,000-plus. Before it all started there were 223,120 registered voters in a county of 520,000—less than 50 percent.

Republicans battled for some of their votes. Over zealous Venita McConnell of Wauconda Twp. took her traveling registration table to the Wal-Mart in Lake Zurich. This made Robert Grever, County Board member and Ela Twp. supervisor, fighting mad. He told McConnell to find her own voters—in her own township.

The rift was quickly patched by GOP compromisers.

JUST GOOD POLITICS

Why is Mary Beattie so qualified to be the Republican candidate for County Board Dist. 16 in November?

Originally, it was to be Mona Strenger of Lake Forest, wife of the late, great Don Strenger. County Board Chairman Robert Depke hand picked her.

But the Shields Twp. GOP wasn't buying. They wanted their own, township party chairman Mary Beattie.

Besides, county party Chairman Robert Churchill had a promise to keep. He told colleague state Rep. Virginia Frederick (R-Lake Forest) he would help her in the November election against Democrat state Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago). The logic is it is better to have a happy Mary Beattie working for the ticket rather than a scorned one not doing nothing.

GOP FAT CATS

There isn't one, but two Bush-Quayle campaign headquarters in Lake County this election.

Both are in the land of the fat cats.

One is staffed by the Lake Forest-Lake Bluff Women's Republican Club in Lake Forest. The number is (708) 615-9034.

The other is a joint venture in Barrington sponsored by the Cuba Twp. Republican Club and the Barrington Twp. GOP Club of Cook County. The number there is (708) 304-6605.

DO POLLS LIE?

Congressman Phil Crane (R-Arlington Heights) of the 8th Dist., apparently has a short memory.

He's called me to task for saying three polls show him running virtually neck-in-neck with Democratic challenger Shelia Smith.

Two were done by the Democrats. And the Republican one questioned by Crane's staff? It was conducted in August by the Republican National Congressional Campaign Committee. Crane disregarded the results and, hence, the entire poll.

OVERHEARD/SEEN

LIBERTYVILLE—Although an apology was extended to former Libertyville Grade School Supt. Larry Baskin for an item that appeared last June in this column, it should have been a retraction. I said he received a BMW as a going away gift before joining a Lake Forest business school. The grade school board gave him no such gift. Nor was it paid for from a school travel allowance. Rather, Baskin said, it was purchased with his own money five years before resigning. The error is regretted. ISLAND LAKE—The biggest news this month is the opening of a new automatic car wash on the west side. Management is waiting for Cecil B. Turtle, the town's dog-devouring reptile, to show up for his winter bath. That will be the official grand opening. VOLO—Old Volo Furniture is doing its part for the economy. Now underway is a Keep America Working Sale. Prices on American-made furniture are reduced 50 to 60 percent. It's an all-American event with no money down and three years to pay starting in January.

who live by certain taverns, need your help. We are sick and tired of the drunks, noise and speeding cars. No one is safe on our streets. It's a time bomb. We have had cars go through our yards, hit our trees, smash parked cars, stolen our cars, knock down our mailboxes with regularity, litter bottles and cops, knock down our fences and hit people. Nothing and no one is safe. One child was the victim of a hit and run. We have contacted every authority figure we can think of, even hiring officers from the Lake County Police Department. We can't put in speed bumps and we all can't move. We're looking for suggestions.

Play in Fox Lake

This is for the person who called about the filthy Moose Lodge in Antioch. I just called to say if you want a nice, clean place to play Bingo, go to the Fox Lake Lions Club. The woman who cleans does an excellent job. The place looks clean and smells clean — especially the restrooms. If its too cold or too warm, she'll adjust the temperature. She keeps the smoke filters clean and working at all times. Her son is always on hand to help the handicapped in any way. So, if you want the cleanest, healthiest place to play Bingo, then go to the Lions Club in Fox Lake. Their custodian is one-woman cleaning team, and she is the best around. You'll certainly have a better time and breathe a lot easier.

Answer: Raise Taxes

I'm from Grant Township. In our township newsletter, we are told no new taxes to cover the planned recreation complex because there is no increase in the present township levy for that purpose. The words, "present levy," means that there leaves open future levies when the costs soar out of control. We are all aware of the astronomical settlements awarded to people injured on playgrounds. The cost of liability insurance is beyond the reach of many communities. How will the township pay for liability insurance? If we have no insurance, how will they pay settlements in the event of injuries? Answer: Increase the levy, raise the taxes. If the federal funding grant is not approved, how do we finance this project? Answer: Increase the levy, raise raise taxes. How do we pay for the additional working hours needed to maintain this project? Answer: Increase the levy, raise taxes. Mrs. Miller, there are many wonderful and worthwhile projects in this world that we just cannot afford and this park is one of them.

Shame on New Housing

Another housing going up Tippy and North Avenue? Shame, shame, shame. Don't we have enough new housing in this area? We need a big store like a Venture, K-Mart or Target, whatever. Beautiful land over there would make a nice shopping center. It still wouldn't hurt the downtown area by us by having a big supermarket store there. Shame on the housing already. It's not helping our children. Our schools are overcrowded. Help the people who need this now. Thank you. I'm from Antioch.

TCI Snowed Us Under

This is in reply to "Twisted Cable" regarding TCI Cable. We have been sitting here again, just watching snow on our screen. There's no picture. This goes on and off for a week. You try to call and get nothing but a busy signal. You don't get anything but busy. When you do get through, they tell you later that they were working on the lines. Cable was out the other night during the Bears game for an hour. You can't tell me someone is out fixing the poles or the lines at that hour of the night. You don't get any discount. Then you're told that this is to better your service. But you never get anything off for not having pictures.

Let Them Play

Since this is the season. Let's talk football. No, I don't mean the pros. I mean the grade school and freshman level. They're usually called teams, but why is it that only half of them play, and the other half sit, or are just called second string. I get to the games late because they start early and I work, only to watch my son walk the sidelines or get in for a play or two. How will ever be able to play in the higher levels if they don't get experience in seventh, eighth and ninth grades? Isn't this just the learning stage, and not just the fact that you should get out there and win, win, win. Please, let's hear more on this. I say let all the boys play. Thank you for listening.

Get Someone New

I'd like to say a few things about the Lake Villa Beauty Pageant. I'm a Lake Villa resident and have always attended the pageants they've had for the Miss and Little Miss. I think that Alice should give it up. She seems to be too busy and involved with other things. I'm also the mother of a past runner up and I think it's really cruel the way they treat the Little Misses.

More Information, Please

The answer to all of your questions is "Yes." And this is worth more than two cents. I have comments about the public opinion survey for the proposed Grant Township Recreation Center. In reading the survey's outline, these questions occurred. In my opinion, recreation facilities are always a plus for any community, and primary consideration for the young people of Grant Township is extremely important. I do, though, question the suggested interest directed toward adult use and, in my opinion, without enough information available to indicate the quantity of adults who may be using the facility, I would say it would be minor. Another area to comment about is the distance from those of whom would benefit by using the facility. How would they get there? By bus? Taxi? Or what? Regarding property taxes. Are the taxpayers going to accept the proposal that there will be no increase in the present Grant Township levy for that purpose. Would that include the future, also? Not! And also, did you say, in each of the preceding five years, the township has appropriated about $15,000? That comes to a total of $75,000 toward the development of a center that we're receiving a survey for now. One would ask: "How did this appropriation occur, and who paid? Seems that there is a hole in the levy. Please explain.

Barbies for Russia?

I also want to complain about the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council. I'm not a Scout leader. I am a parent of a girl who was in Girl Scouts. Lately, it seems that a lot of the leaders have enough time for all of their own activities between themselves, and they've lost interest in what the girls are doing. They've also went ahead and started a drive to send Barbie dolls to girls in Russia. This might be a very good idea. But what about the kids in our own town, in our own state, in our own country who don't have any Barbie dolls. Thank you. I'm from Ingleside.

Families in Bars — Get Real

The word "family" is being bandied about lately. But I have never seen it paired with the word "bar" before. That was until I read Dan Bernard's story about a country club saloon proposed for Vernon Hills. Do planners of such projects appeal to family values in hopes to ease them past resistant municipal boards? Of course they do. What's more, this project will create jobs, the story said. Let's see — family activities, more jobs. Oh my! What? No apple pie on the menu? Come on guys, you want to build a bar and make some

The David Adler Cultural Center, the historic home of David Adler who died in 1949, was built in 1980 under the instruction of a friend of Adler's. The dining room is the only room that remains as it originally was in the 1920s when Adler lived there.—Photos by Heather McDonald

Culture grows in Adler's legacy

In an attempt to bring culture to children and adults as individuals, thereby educating society, the David Adler Cultural Center was created in 1980. Originally, the center was the architect David Adler's home.

The only cultural center in Lake County, the Adler Center focuses on helping students develop skills they can use and enjoy throughout life. One of the most important programs is the Suzuki Talent Education program, which has been in existence as long as the center has.

"Arts really make us human," said Muriel Schornack, director of music education. "Animals have a communication system, but arts and culture tie us together as a human race."

"Every culture everywhere has music."

Schornack, who's been with Adler for two years, said she did not know anything about the center before she became involved as an instructor of Suzuki piano. Now, she's "delighted" to be there.

"There's so much potential for growth," she said. "With the growth in Lake County comes the growth of arts, music, cultural events... it's exciting to be a part of that."

When Schornack first came to Adler, there was not a serious recital series. Students would be able to play maybe twice a year. She is hoping to develop the program to offer recitals every month. In the meantime, Schornack is planning a faculty recital in January, and she has adopted many new classes to prepare toddlers and young children for the hard work involved in music. One of those classes is the "Tuneful Toddlers" class, taught by Jill Harkaway.

"Tuneful Toddlers" focuses on teaching children the basics of music so they can develop their intuition for the art as they grow older.

"The children make the music themselves," Harkaway said. "They become more involved when they sing, dance and play on their own rather than having to listen to a record."

Although the class can function as a preparatory class for the Suzuki Talent Education program, it teaches children to grow as individuals and gives them a little insight to culture.

"There is a lot of intelligence in the things the children get to do," said Harkaway. "Language is involved and they learn to work together and wait their turn."

Because many cultures are defined by their music, as the children grow from toddlers to small children (ages 3-6) they learn about different cultures. In the 3-6 age group, children experience native cultures through instruments such as drums.

"It brings more tolerance and understanding by all cultures through the things that are brought to class," Harkaway said.

holds 240 acres. But the interior of the buildings contain small rooms.

"He (Adler) wanted to do this place as a French-European farmhouse so the rooms are small," said Nancy Christensen, secretary with the David Adler Center for six years. "It's more 'homier.'"

Adler was born in Milwaukee in 1882. He was educated in private schools like Princeton, where he designed the building for Princeton's Charter Club. Adler never obtained an advanced degree in architecture in any school he attended.

In 1911, he entered into a partnership with Henry Dangler, who was a fellow student, and pursued his architectural profession with Dangler's name on all building permits. When Dangler died in 1917, Adler was forced to take another partner.

In an attempt to take over the business himself, Adler did sit for his licensure twice, but failed both times. His reply to one of the technical engineering questions on the exam was, "I have men in my office who take care of that sort of thing."

Despite the lack of a professional license, Adler was elected to the prestigious American Institute of Architects in 1926.

Adler designed all his drawings on a one to one scale. It is highly unusual to draw to scale, but Adler was interested in perfection. It is said he once eye-balled a work in progress and claimed the cornice was 1/4-inch too wide. When workers measured it, Adler was right. He ordered the building be torn down and redone according to specifications.

Many of Adler's drawings are archived at the Art Institute of Chicago. Among the buildings he designed is "Castle Hill," the estate featured in the film, "The Witches of Eastwick."

David Adler died in 1949 at his Libertyville home. He designed at least 50 houses, 43 of which were actually built, in a range of styles that included Italian Renaissance villas, French chateaus, Georgian, American colonial and an example of the English half-timber period.

Adler used the past to blend styles. He was a post modernist whose imagination was fortified by knowledge and craftsmanship.

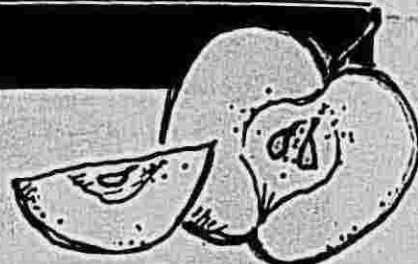

The Adler Center respects that craftsmanship and has renovated much of the home. Currently, they continue to renovate and improve the gardens.

"A" Is for Apple

Taste

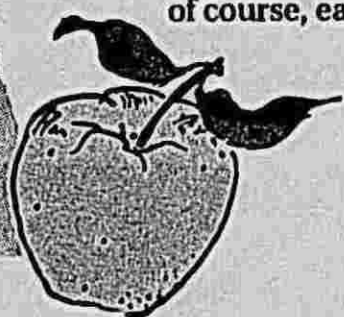

The orchards are filled with autumn apples waiting to be picked...

Apples can be used in so many ways—cooked in recipes from breakfast to main dishes to dessert and, of course, eaten-out-of-hand.

Include these autumn jewels whenever you can while they're at their freshest.

Berry Apple Pie

You may want to save this for Thanksgiving Day. Combining fresh apples, cranberries and frozen blackberries makes for a pretty and delicious dessert pie.

- |  |                                      |
|--|--------------------------------------|
| 1 (15-oz.) pkg. refrigerated piecrusts       | 3/4 c. sugar                         |
| 4 c. peeled, sliced apples                   | 2 T. cornstarch                      |
| 1 c. frozen blackberries, thawed and drained | 2 T. cranberry juice or orange juice |
| 1 c. fresh cranberries                       | 2 T. butter                          |

Line a 9-inch deep-dish pieplate with one piecrust, following package directions; set aside.

Combine apples, blackberries and cranberries in a large bowl; set aside. Combine sugar and cornstarch; sprinkle over fruit, and drizzle cranberry juice over sugar mixture. Gently toss, and spoon into pieplate: dot with butter, and top with remaining crust. Trim pastry: seal and flute edges. Cut slits in pastry for steam to escape. Bake at 425 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes or until browned. Cool.

Makes one 9-inch pie

Caramel Apples

A favorite snack with a different twist...the addition of peanut butter and granola.

- 6 medium eating apples
6 T. granola, chopped salted peanuts or chopped candy-coated chocolate candies
1 pkg. (14 oz.) vanilla caramels
3 T. water
1/4 c. creamy peanut butter
1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon

Wash and dry apples thoroughly. Insert ice-cream stick in stem end of each apple. Divide granola into 6 mounds of 1 T. each about 3 inches apart on waxed paper.

Heat caramels, water, peanut butter and cinnamon in top of double boiler over hot water about 20 minutes, stirring frequently, until caramels are melted and mixture is smooth; remove from heat. (Keep top of double boiler over hot water.)

Dip each apple in hot caramel mixture, spooning mixture over apple until completely coated. Roll top of apple in granola. Refrigerate about 1 hour or until caramel coating is firm. Makes 6 apples

Dried Apple Swags

Fresh apples are cored (do not peel); then using a very sharp knife, slice into 1/8-inch slices. Soak apple slices in water with 1 tsp. of salt and 1 T. lemon juice added, drain and pat dry. Place on wire rack in a 250 degree oven for about 2 hours, turning occasionally. Slide slices onto a wooden dowel and let dry naturally until moisture is completely gone. Slices should feel leathery.

Thread with heavy sisal string and hang over a fireplace, door, windows or around a centerpiece.

Apple-and-Walnut-Filled Squash

Apples add a lovely sweetness to the buttery squash. Serve as a vegetable side dish; makes a good presentation.

- 2 medium acorn squash (about 1-1/4 lbs. each)
1/4 c. firmly packed brown sugar
1/4 c. butter, melted
1 c. chopped, unpeeled apple
1/4 c. chopped walnuts

Cut acorn squash in half, and remove seeds. Place squash, cut side up, in a shallow baking dish. Add boiling water to a depth of 1/2 inch to pan.

Combine brown sugar, butter and chopped apple; spoon into squash shells. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour or until squash is tender. Sprinkle with walnuts.

Makes 4 servings

Apple Butter

Ah, autumn! Time for picking apples with the family and making apple butter. Your microwave oven cooks this welcome treat down easily.

- |   |                          |
|---|--------------------------|
| 3 lbs. cooking apples, peeled, cored and cut into squares | 2 T. cider vinegar       |
| 1/4 c. apple cider  | 1-1/2 ground cinnamon    |
| 1-1/2 c. granulated sugar                                 | 1/4 tsp. ground allspice |
| 1/2 c. packed brown sugar                                 | 1/8 tsp. ground nutmeg   |

Place apples in 3-quart casserole. Add apple cider. Cover. Microwave at HIGH for 18 to 23 minutes, or until apples are very soft, stirring once or twice. Place mixture in food processor and blend till smooth.

Return apple mixture to 3-quart casserole. Stir in remaining ingredients. Microwave, uncovered, at HIGH for 30 to 45 minutes, or until mixture is very thick, stirring 3 or 4 times. Spoon mixture evenly into three sterilized 1/2-pint jars. Cover and refrigerate overnight before serving. Store Apple Butter in refrigerator for no longer than 1 month.

Makes 3 1/2-pint jars

Caramel-Apple Bread Pudding

After making your own applesauce by cooking down apples and putting through a sieve...you're ready for a delicious treat!

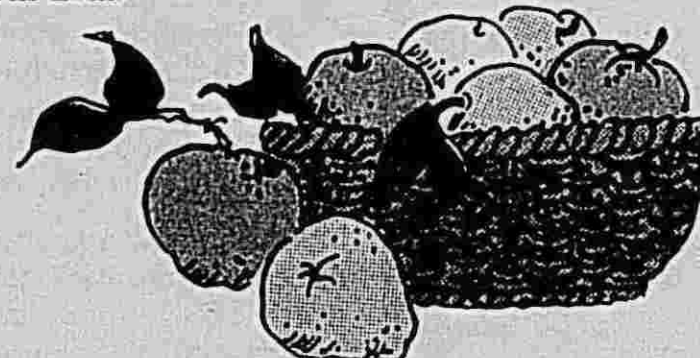

- Butter, softened
5 slices bread
2 eggs
1-1/2 c. half-and-half
1-1/2 c. applesauce
1/3 c. sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
Caramel Sauce

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Lightly butter bread. Fit 2-1/2 slices, buttered sides up, in ungreased square baking dish, 8x8x2 inches. Beat eggs in medium bowl. Stir in remaining ingredients except Caramel Sauce. Pour half of egg mixture into baking dish. Top with remaining bread and egg mixture.

Bake uncovered 50 to 60 minutes or until knife inserted 1 inch from comes out clean. Serve warm or cold with Caramel Sauce and ice cream if desired. Refrigerate any remaining pudding immediately. Makes 8 servings

- Caramel Sauce
2/3 c. packed brown sugar
1/2 c. light corn syrup
1/2 c. half-and-half
2 T. butter

Heat all ingredients to boiling in 1-quart saucepan over medium-low heat, stirring constantly. Serve hot or cold.

Sherry-Apple Pork Chops

What's for dinner? Try this recipe using apples and a bit of sherry. It's hearty and should bring lots of compliments.

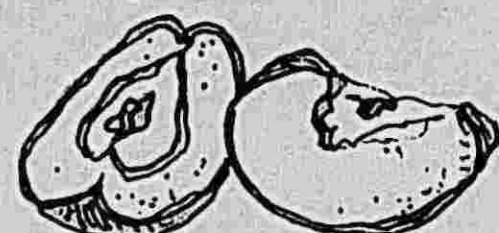

- |                                     |                        |
|-------------------------------------|------------------------|
| 6 (1-inch-thick) pork chops         | 2 T. brown sugar       |
| 2 T. oil                            | 2 T. soy sauce         |
| 2 cooking apples peeled and chopped | 1/2 tsp. garlic powder |
| 1 med. onion, chopped               | 2 T. cornstarch        |
| 3/4 c. dry sherry                   | 1/4 c. water           |
| 1/2 c. orange juice                 |                        |

Brown pork chops in oil in a large skillet; drain pan drippings. Place chopped apples and onion on top of pork chops.

Combine sherry, orange juice, brown sugar, soy sauce and garlic powder; pour over chops. Cover, reduce heat and simmer 1 hour or until chops are tender. Transfer chops to serving plate, reserving pan drippings.

Combine cornstarch and water, stirring until smooth; stir into pan drippings. Bring to a boil, and cook 1 minute or until thickened, stirring constantly. Serve with chops.

Dorothy meets Alice at Marriott

Imagine Dorothy meeting Alice, the Wicked Witch and the Red Queen teaming up, the Mad Hatter, Cowardly Lion, Scarecrow, and White Rabbit on an adventure together.

That's what audiences will experience at "The Wizard of Wonderland," playing at Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre for Young Audiences now through Oct. 31. This unusual work was written by Joseph Robinette with music by Karl Jurman.

The adventure begins when Judson Watson nods off while trying to finish his homework assignment. Upon waking he finds himself in The Crystal Wood, a mysterious and unusual place tucked halfway between Oz and Wonderland. Judson meets Alice, Dorothy and many of their storybook friends and gets involved with their enemies Wicked Witch and the Red Queen. This unusual ensemble tries to unscramble their stories in a magical, musical rendezvous that Lewis Carroll and L. Frank Baum could never have imagined.

The 'Wizard of Wonderland' is directed and choreographed by Rob Rahn. Each performance is approximately one hour in length and is followed by a question and answer session with the actors.

Performances are Wednesday through Friday at 10 a.m. and Saturdays at 11 a.m. Special Columbus Day performances will be held Monday, Oct. 12, at 10 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Ticket prices are $5.50 and can be ordered through the Box Office at 634-0200.—by CLAUDIA M. LENART

Rengin Altay and Jeff Perry in "Awake and Sing!"

'Awake and Sing' appearing on Steppenwolf stage

Although Clifford Odets' "Awake and Sing!" takes place during the hard times of the Depression, given the current topsy-turviness of the economy, the play contains plenty of contemporary fodder.

As mounted at Chicago's Steppenwolf Theater, the play takes a compassionate look at a Jewish family struggling with everyday life in the Bronx in 1935. There are a lot of similarities.

Like today, it's a period when the American Dream seems to be falling by the wayside. Traditional family values about marriage and careers are coming under new scrutiny by disillusioned young people and a disheartened older generation.

What's especially appearing about "Awake and Sing!" is the sharp, real-life definition of its characters.

Barbara Robertson is the brassy, voluble mother who specializes in orchestrating the lives of those in her circle. Jeffrey Lieber is the idealistic son who cries out "We don't want life printed on dollar bills." Nathan Davis plays the family patriarch, a Marxist with one foot in the past and the other pointed to the future.

Francis Guinan, as Myron Berger, the feather-brained father who blames his failure on his baldness and knows more about Teddy Roosevelt than his own family, carries off his role with aplomb. Jeff Perry is the iconoclastic family friend, David Novak the perfect wimpy husband and Rengin Altay the confused daughter faced with some difficult choices. Robert Breuler, a Steppenwolf veteran, deftly handles a minor role—as building superintendent.

"Awake and Sing!" directed by Sheldon Patinin, runs through Nov. 1—by TOM WITOM

'Singles' '90's kind of love story

Director Cameron Crowe has a definite knack for taking a love story that is definitely "up-front" today and injecting yesterday's romanticism, ala another of his products "Say Anything."

Since TV's "90210" became a smash, television is filled with Aaron Spelling's group age-indicative soaps.

Crowe does the same thing here with three "20 Something" couples played by Campbell Scott and Kyra Sedgwick, Matt Dillon and Bridget Fonda, and Sheila Kelley and Jim True.

Scott, who by the way is better cast in this one than he was in "Dying Young," is the perfect 1990's perceptive and tender male without being the least wimpy, and his girl friend, played by Sedgwick, portrays today's self-reliant, goal-oriented female without losing her femininity.

Dillon has some good prank scenes as the egomaniac in the form of a rock singer and his squeeze, played by a spacey Fonda, adds to some of the fun parts of the flick.

True's character, Bailey, is paired with Kelley's Debbie. Both are subconsciously looking for love, but she buries her search in her work as an ad exec, and he takes phone numbers that are left unused.

Crowe and his cast do a good job of developing the characters, almost over-defining their traits. Maybe the audience could have been given a little more credit for perception.

We'll give this one four out of five stars - it's fun - it's dreamy and sentimental - and we liked the people. It's rated PG-13.—by GLORIA DAVIS

BRAVI...ROBB...WATTS FAMILY RELIEF EFFORT

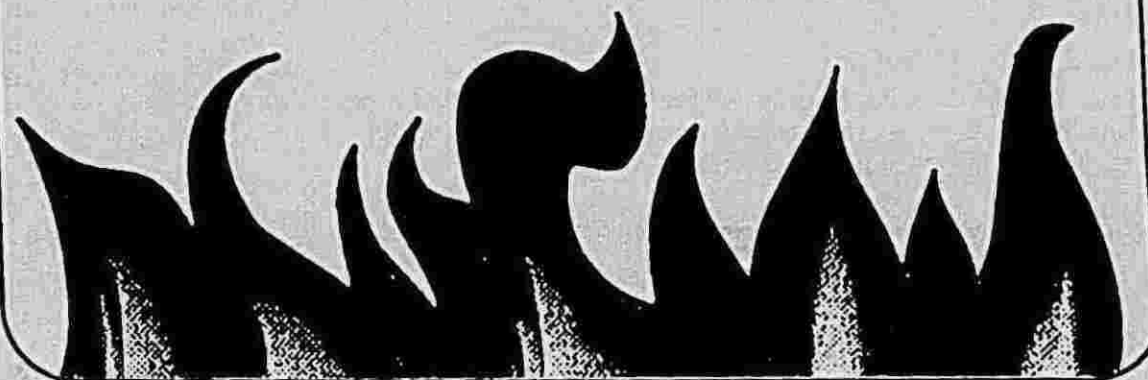

On August 30, 1992 a terrible fire swept through a two-flat apartment building in Round Lake. It killed Todd Jason Watts, terribly burned his mother, and left seven people homeless.

What wasn't destroyed by fire, or fire-fighting efforts is being destroyed by mildew, standing water, and flooding of the basement.

One family, will ultimately, be able to return to the building. The other family, has not only had to deal with the infant loss, and a long term recovery program for the mother, but total loss of everything...from money and records through toys and eye-glasses.

It is our desire to help this cause by holding a Rummage Sale Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 2, 3 and 4 from 9 am till 4 p.m. 542 N. Ravine, Round Lake Park, IL 60073. (708) 546-6373. Lutheran Brotherhood, Lake County Branch #8799. Branch Challenge Matching Fund Up to $3,842.

A Louisiana Swamp Tour For The Environmentally Minded By Jim Warnken, President North Star Travel, Inc.

Swamps are smelly, mosquito filled, snake infested polluted bodies of water. Wrong!

Last weekend, while in New Orleans, I had the opportunity to visit one of the last untouched swamps left in North America and discovered just how fantastical, beautiful and intriguingly educational a swamp really is.

Dr. Paul Wagner, a wetland ecologist, and environmental consultant in South Louisiana Swamps, directs the Honey Island Swamp tours, near Slidell La. There are dozens of Swamp Tours offered in the New Orleans area. Most promise stories of pirates and lost treasures. Some offer fancy boats complete with restrooms and food.

I chose Dr. Wagner's personalized nature tour with a non-commercialized explanation of Louisiana Swamp ecology and natural history. His boats are small and simple, allowing access deep into the swamp interior. I was not disappointed.

The first thing I noticed was the complete absence of mosquitos. Seems there are none in this untouched swamp.

The smell was that of a forest after a summer rain, not the polluted stink we associate with a swamp. Bad smelling swamps are the result of man dumping his wasted into non moving bodies of water. No man here, so no waste and no smell.

We were treated to beautiful Blue and White Herons, Wood Ducks, Egrets and lots of other water Fowl who call this swamp home.

A couple of alligators came out to the boat to partake of the marshmallows Capt. Berry, our guide, brings along as a treat.

Among the many facts learned from Capt. Berry were a marsh is a backwater in the process of becoming a swamp. Cypress trees send out roots, called knees, that rise above the water to breathe and the stuff hanging from the Cypress trees is Spanish Moss which actually lives off the air.

If you are in New Orleans, Dr. Wagner's Honey Island Swamp Tour is a must.

Your Horoscope

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You care little about work, though you may effectively brainstorm to resolve a slight hindrance. As your creative juices flow, you become diligent. Expect long distance calls and perhaps a trip. Your weekend has heavenly potential, but know who the boss is; certainly not you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Priorities are priorities, so you say. Unless you're active with real estate, your focus nearly all week will be on the home front.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Chat up a storm as the week begins. Be friendly with the boss, the neighbor and friends. The beginning of the week is a piece of cake; the end of the week finds you busy eating cake and enjoying family and the domestic life. Your wilder side emerges this weekend.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You are the financial wizard of the zodiac, at least through midweek. Be careful not to brag about your recent business coups. Chat up a storm over turkey dinner; you may be cooing with love, once more or again. You want to, and you choose to snuggle in this weekend for what could be a romantic feast.

LEO (July 23-August 22) Let your personality flow through. You see life with a new perspective, and others may see you in a new light, perhaps with new respect. Enjoy the admiration, but you could fall off this pedestal. Financial dealings punctuate week's end. Open paths of communication this weekend.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) Recognize that you may be running on low as the week begins. Refuse to take an active stance. Let others babble. Make the most of the weekend. Your wishes may gain favor.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) As the week begins keep focused on your desires, but aim high. A friendship needs nurturing. You get back tenfold what you give. You may need to make some basic changes. Take action this weekend... the sooner the better for you.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) Accept responsibility for a work matter. Open up to change and be ready to grab an opportunity when it comes midweek. Wherever you are, the party is. You withdraw into your cocoon over the weekend. Rest up for an intense work week.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) Your mind is everywhere but the here and now. Solve problems or create fantasies at midweek. You enjoy the whole weekend, celebrations and all. (P.S. you're well aspected to get your way.)

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) Keep those snugly feelings as the week begins. Be it work or play, don't act alone. Financial matters can be renegotiated if that's your desire. Expect a busy weekend perhaps with a little work thrown in.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) You feel the need to spread your wings and socialize as the week begins. Even if you're working, you're ready for adventures, long lunches, short workdays. You're likely to act on the insights you gain as early as the weekend.

PISCES (February 19-March 20) You are at your most efficient early this week. You will tolerate no interference with your work. What you accomplish stuns another. You feel popular, desired, adored. Someone lays a true confession on you this weekend.

Kirk Players stage Neil Simon comedy 'Rumors'

The Kirk Players non-profit community stock theatre company is staging their 27th Season opener, "Rumors", on Oct. 9 and 10. Performances will be held in the Mundelein High School theatre, 1350 W. Hawley St., at 8 p.m. All proceeds are donated to Omni Youth Services, which is an organization that provides counseling to youth and families in crisis.

The Kirk Players' Founder-Director John W. Lynn describes "Rumors" as "a fun-filled, make 'em laugh, comedy farce." Author Neil Simon created this gem in the style of "The Odd Couple" and "Barefoot in the Park."

Simon sets the action in Charley and Myra

Brock's stylish townhome. Charley is the Deputy Mayor of New York. A few high society friends have been invited over to celebrate the Brock's 10th wedding anniversary. Ken and Chris Gorman, played by Jeff Mann of Vernon Hills and Mary Jo Pippenger of Hawthorn Woods, are the first to arrive and find that old Charley has met with foul play.

Someone has shot off his earlobe! Was this wound self inflicted? Did Myra fire the shot? What about the missing butler and cook? What chaos might ensue if the New York press ever got their hands on this story? Unwilling to find out, Ken and Chris proceed to hide the truth from the other party guests.

The Brock's accountant Lenny Ganz and his wife Claire, played by Jon Leslie Lynn and Karen Peterson both of Mundelein, arrive next and the wild plot begins to thicken. The confusion mounts with the arrival of Ernie and Cookie Cusack, played by Mundelein residents Jon Matousek and Sue Gaubatz. Poor Cookie! She has a delicate physical condition and can hardly bear the crazy roller coaster ride of hilarity that's in store. Wham-bam, doors slam, there's a fire in the kitchen and the goose isn't cooked! Well, someone's goose is bound to get cocked before the curtains close on this Neil Simon comedy.

The balance of the cast includes Mundelein residents Russ Slade and Angela Lynn as Glen and Cassie Cooper, a couple of experts at the fine art of arguing. Tania Lynn of Grayslake and Royden Slade of Mundelein portray the two police officers who must finally attend to the task of discovering the truth.

"Rumors" technical staff includes Bob Thomas, Technical Director; Sheila Bourque, Stage Manager; Maureen Slade, House Manager; Jeff Lynn, lights; Pete Wennerstrom, sound; Janie Ann Slade, set decoration; Lynne Gomoll, costumes; Johanna Thomson, Mike Simmons and Sharon Arvidson, props.

Individual ticket prices are adults $5, students $3, senior citizens and children under 12 $2. For further information call John Lynn at 566-6594.

Jensen House fetes Oktoberfest mit Herz

You'll say, "Das Essen war sehr schön!" (That was a lovely dinner!), after celebrating authentic Oktoberfest fare at The Jensen House, routes 83 and 173 in Antioch.

The Jensen House will feature its special Oktoberfest menu through Nov. 1. The German dinner headliners include Wiener Schnitzel with Spätzle, the Schlacht Platte, Rouladen with Red Cabbage, Roast Duck with Bread Dumpling, Sauerbraten with Potato Pancake and Bavarian Roast Pork with Bread Dumpling. All entrees come with a choice of sauerkraut or red cabbage, soup and salad and a choice of dessert — Pflaumen Kuchen (plum cake) or German Chocolate Cake.

Prosit! A fine selection of imported and domestic beer and wine will enhance that special dining experience.

You can believe it's authentic. Jensen House owner Bernd Jung is a native of Deutschland and has over a quarter of a century's experience as German-American cuisine chef. Bernd first learned while watching his mother prepare meals in the German tradition. After coming to this country, he was a sous chef at Zum Deutschen Eck, a popular Chicago restaurant.

But German treats are just part of the Jensen House's offerings. The dinner menu includes pork, ribs, chicken, seafood and steaks.

Chef Patrick Louineau, who has specialized in French cuisine for 16 years, brings another area of expertise to the staff at The Jensen House. A brand-new addition is Pastry Chef Chris Rogge, who just completed his studies at the Culinary Institute of New York.

The Jensen House bakes its own treats, including cinnamon rolls (Try them warm with butter.), caramel apple nut cake, muffins and flourless chocolate cake.

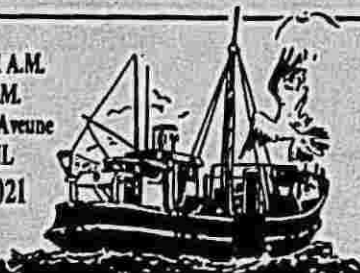

Located on the landmark Dr. George Jensen Estate, the Jensen House is open for breakfast and lunch from 6 a.m. until 3 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays. It's open for breakfast, lunch and dinner from 6 a.m. until 9 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday.

The Jensen House will also cater those special occasions — from the simple to the elegant. And, the Jensen House dining room will accommodate 30 to 80 people for any celebration.

money. Save the corn and serve it up with the Texas barbecue to your customers. The proposed saloon sounds like fun, but I won't be bringing my kids there, dance lessons or not. Will the Vernon Hills trustees? Thank you. This message is from Long Grove.

Teachers are Robbers

I heard two teachers in a bar, yes, a bar, complaining about Round Lake School Board. Seems that the school board didn't give them a raise. Congratulations school board. It's time that someone stood up to these greedy teachers. They work eight months during the year, are underworked and overpaid. Congratulations school board, for holding the line against the robbers of the tax payers' money. It's time someone stood up against Kirby and his union robbers. Thank you, again, Round Lake School Board.

Increase Impact Fees

I'm a Lake Villa resident and have lived here for six years. In the last six years, my property taxes have doubled. Now, the Lake Villa Library wants to increase everything by 26 percent. Not only do I wish my salary was increased by 26 percent, this is insane. Where are the impact fees from the new housing developments? If we're going to pay for an increased library, which we probably will need with all these people coming in. We have to increase the impact fees, but not by $500 or $1,000. That's not going to pay for the new roads and sewers and schools. Here we go again. If we are going to double anything, let's double the impact fees.

Check Drivers, Too

This is in reply to the person in Vernon Hills who asked if school buses are safe, and wants to know why superintendents of schools don't check school buses. Just think about Fox Lake School District, they don't even check who drives their school buses.

Rush Hour

Anyone who doesn't know about Rush Limbaugh's show, 10 p.m., weeknights on Channel 66, watch it.

This is how America should be thinking.

Hooray For Senior Discounts

I'm calling from Antioch. I am not a senior citizen. Hopefully, I will be some day. I am in my late 30s. I commend all the restaurants who give senior citizen discounts. Usually, these discounts are given one day a week. I think all seniors should get all items at least 20 percent cheaper, but not just one day a week — but all seven days. I also think that these businesses that do offer these discounts should be commended for doing so, and rewarded with extra patronage by everyone of all ages. I do not own my own business, but I hold one or two garage sales per year and give a 30 percent discount to any senior citizen who shopped at my sales. It is the least we can do to love, honor and respect our elders who have given so much to secure our future. Try living on a fixed income. It certainly isn't easy. I urge more and more businesses in Antioch to make every day senior citizen day.

Attitude Problem

Major attitude. The girls who work at the First State Bank have a major chip on their shoulders. They treat the customers with a lack of respect, like we are an inconvenience. Get off your high horse girls, customers are more important than your social lives. Thank you.

Burning Wauconda

Within the last month, there have been at least five fires in the unincorporated Wauconda Township. I feel that if the fire department and building and zoning did proper inspections on places of business and some of the slop shop methods some people put houses together with, this would be rectified. Please do something and help this area.

Where Do We Put The Kids?

The 2,700 kids now in Libertyville High School feeder kindergartens deserve a place to sit when they get to LHS. The homeowners in Dist. 128 want to continue to enjoy the high values on their properties that come through good schools. Do you think Realtors from other towns might be talking to house buyers about the overcrowding at LHS. The bond referendum on the Nov. 3 ballot will cost most taxpayers less than 30 cents per day — an incredible bargain when the full and lifelong benefits are considered. Our high school needs to be expanded because there are hundreds of more students almost on its doorstep. Let's wake up, smell the coffee, count heads and vote Yes for LHS on Nov. 3. I'm calling from Libertyville.

Drag Strip, USA

Hi. I live in Round Lake Beach on Shorewood Road. Every night, after dark, Shorewood Road becomes a local drag strip. The police are nowhere to be found. But I've seen them in the morning and evening, arresting people for doing 30 in the 25. But at night, they are squealing tires, riding up on people's lawns. I know some of the people have had their mail box knocked down more than three times in the last two years. The police do nothing about it. I do believe that something needs to be done before something serious happens. I'm glad I've had the time to get it off my chest, because I've spent many sleepless nights waiting for the crash that squealing tires and busting glass.

Pro-lifers Needed Elsewhere

I'm calling from Grayslake and would like to respond to article about pro-lifers defending their baby's right to life after they are born. I would like to know if anybody out there knows if any of the pro-life organizations have any type of further organizations that will assist with these children that need help, these abused, abandoned, mistreated children. Maybe they would like to volunteer to do work with the Department of Children and Family Services. Maybe start an organization to help preach birth control. To bad we can't do something about those welfare moms who have children simply to collect money from the government. It's a shame that parenting isn't licensed like so many other professions that require skills.

Accused is Guilty

IBM promoting manufacturing through recognition

by RHONDA VINZANT
Lakeland Newspapers

The repercussions of the global economic recession have hit home in the Midwest as the rust belt continues to tarnish. Businesses are closing their doors in increasing numbers sending more workers to the unemployment lines—some as a result of an economy where competition has become increasingly stiff and some as a result of technological advances that have eliminated their positions.

One company in the Chicagoland area is working to boost the local and national economy by encouraging small and medium size manufacturers to improve their operations and recognize successful manufacturers.

The IBM Alpha Award will praise manufacturers who are implementing and managing changes that improve their business specifically and the manufacturing process overall.

"These manufacturers are the backbone of the economy in Chicago, the Midwest and the nation. The IBM Alpha Award will recognize manufacturers who are striving to be more competitive in the 1990s and into the 21st Century," says John Thompson, vice president and general manager, Midwestern area. "There is no award like this to recognize small and medium-size manufacturing companies. It will promote community values and involvement."

The award is being presented by the IBM Chicagoland Small/Mid-Sized Manufacturers Support Group, in cooperation with the Illinois Institute of Technology's Stuart Forum. The support group was created to provide information and services focused exclusively upon the

'We aren't likely to have a strong economy without a manufacturing basis. If we don't have wage earners that support consumption then service jobs are easily replaced.'

—Joel Goldhar, professor of technology management needs and issues of the Chicago-area manufacturing community.

With the resources and experience of IBM and their business partners, this support group works with small- and middle-market manufacturing companies to find ways of improving their productivity and providing tools for manufacturing management and control systems.

"In the Midwest growth in jobs and the economy will come from small- to mid-size manufacturing companies," Thompson said. "Big manufacturers depend on small to mid-size companies to bring products to them. We need to do what we can to help small manufacturing companies to succeed."

To be eligible for the IBM Alpha Award, manufacturing companies must have been in existence for at least three years, employ 50 percent of their workers in the greater Chicago area, operate as a full-functioning manufacturing company and have shown continuous improvement in profitability over the last three years. Eligibility requires that operations within the Chicago area will include all manufacturing functional areas for a company.

Eligible applicants are to be judged on six criteria that measure the company's responsiveness to customers needs and the company's strategy for change that addressed these needs. The criteria includes product quality, customer-order-to-ship cycle time, manufacturing cycle time, human-resource productivity, product cost reductions and new product, process or design development.

"With responsiveness as its central theme, the IBM Alpha Award really drives to the heart of what it takes to make it in today's marketplace—commitment to customer needs," said Joel Goldhar, professor of technology management, Illinois Institute of Technology and IBM Alpha Award Advisory Council member.

"In developing the criteria for the award, the advisory council set down with a group of people that are knowledgeable about manufacturing and what makes a good plant," Goldhar said. "We looked at profitability, management, quality, organization, total-quality management, training, incentives, competitiveness and the use of technology."

"The ultimate goal of the award is to spotlight companies with a particular pocket of excellence," said Bernard Rausch, executive director of the Stuart Forum, Stuart School of Business, Illinois Institute of Technology and advisory council member. "By doing so we offer the manufacturing community examples of how small companies are tackling today's challenges."

"I believe programs like this are part of our role as good corporate citizens," Thompson said. "It's important as participants in the industrial base of a community that we can learn for each other."

The advisory council members feel that the award will also boost the idea that with good manufacturing knowledge and good management Midwestern companies can be competitive, profitable manufacturing business.

"I'm a believer that we can't have a strong economy in this country that doesn't produce something," Thompson said. "For our nation to maintain an edge in the world we have to continue manufacturing." Thompson feels strongly that corporations need to booster manufacturing and doesn't feel that taking manufacturing jobs offshore is the answer.

Goldhar agrees that an award like this is important to the nation's economic future because it highlights successful manufacturing in the U.S.

"We aren't likely to have a strong economy without a manufacturing basis. If we don't have wage earners that support consumption then service jobs are easily replaced," he said.

As technology replaces the mundane manufacturing jobs previously filled with individuals with a high school education, Goldhar believes it is important that manufacturers realize that jobs requiring creativity can't be replaced with machines.

"Service jobs aren't the answer to whose going to be employed in our nation's future," he said. "We've got to start out very young in kindergarten and the early primary grades to teach children that making things is fun. We don't start teaching math and science skills early enough. We need to broaden our educational process."

Goldhar also believes that future wage earners must not lose those creative skills as they progress through school. "In the future there won't be as many first level jobs. People will have to be trained."

Preparing for the future is one reason why Goldhar feels the IBM Alpha Award Program is important. "IBM is taking a leading role in finding ways to revitalize the economy," he said. "We need something to heighten the success of manufacturing."

Goldhar and Rausch are joined by three other Advisory Council members also chosen for their manufacturing expertise to judge the award. They include Margaret Eastwood, vice president and corporate director, Manufacturing Systems, Motorola, Inc.; Sanford Morganstein, chief of technology and business competitiveness, Department of Commerce and Community Affairs; and Robert K. Hall, manager, Time-based Strategy, American National Can Company.

Manufactures can obtain an IBM Alpha Award entry form by calling (312) 346-3232. Entry forms must be postmarked by Oct. 20.

The Alpha Award Program is likely to be expanded outside the Midwest next year.

Don't wait to make tax plan for parental medical needs

by J. MONTGOMERY and R. MIDDLETON

What can be done to meet the needs of your parents or other elderly relatives in a cost-effective and tax-effective manner?

More and more families in this country are faced with having to supplement their parents' income in order to pay for medical care, including nursing home care.

The basic limitation for gifts made to another person is $10,000 per donee annually. A husband and wife may split a gift and give $20,000 per donee annually. Depending on the needs of the parent, this could meet only a fraction of his or her medical care and other care-giving costs.

In addition, gifts may be made in excess of the $10,000 limitation if the gifts are payments for the "medical care" of the parent and the payments are made directly to the provider (and not as reimbursement payments to the donee).

"Medical care" has the same meaning under the gift tax laws as it does for income tax deduction purposes. Note that this may restrict the gift tax shelter extended to payments made directly to a nursing home because the tax laws generally consider nursing home care not to be medical care.

If the patient is confined to the nursing home for medical (rather than personal or family reasons related to living arrangements) the entire payment to the nursing home should be deductible.

In an appropriate case, you should consider requesting the parent's doctor to give you a letter indicating that the patient is in the institution because his or her condition is such that the availability of medical care and nursing attention in such institution is a principal reason for his or her residence there, and meals and lodging are furnished as a necessary incident to such care.

This would make the payments deductible on the patient's own income tax return, as well as eligible for the "extra" gift by the child.

You should also consider having the parent sign durable powers of attorney for health care and for property. The health care power will enable the child to give directions concerning the types and level of care the patient wishes to receive. The child can then change nursing homes (or doctors) if the situation warrants. Otherwise, the child may have to resort to a court guardianship to have the parent moved.

The durable power of attorney for property enables the child to deal with all types of property the parent may own, to sell assets to obtain funds to cover medical costs, to write checks for the medical care, to obtain and apply medical insurance reimbursement, to apply for medical assistance, etc.

Disability of the elderly parent—first to make decisions for himself or herself and then to find the income and assets to pay for necessary care—is a looming problem that requires taking steps now to address and solve. If you wait until the problem is upon you, it may already be too late.

Editor's note: Robert O. Middleton and Janet Montgomery are attorneys concentrating in tax planning for individuals and closely-held businesses with the Chicago law firm of Nisen & Elliott. Both are members of the Chicago Estate Planning Council. They are part of the panel of financial experts preparing This Way to Wealth. Your questions are invited by writing to This Way to Wealth in care of this paper or to 2203B Lakeside Drive, Bannockburn, IL 60015.

Antioch facility to be auctioned Oct. 18

An Antioch manufacturing/distribution center at 90 McMillen Rd. will be among diverse properties to be offered for sale at an auction on Oct. 18.

The announcement was made by Sheldon Good & Company, Chicago-based national real estate auctioneers. The company pioneered the first multiple owner, multiple property real estate auction format in Chicago nearly 10 years ago.

The Antioch facility will be one of several properties offered at a Chicagoland auction. Included in the auction are a luxury home in Orland Park and a newly constructed luxury home and two wooded homesites in Lemont.

The Antioch property is a 333,600 square foot facility situated on a 14.7 acre site. The one-story, fully sprinklered industrial building offers 191,364 square feet of manufacturing space, 131,236 square feet of warehouse space and 11,000 square feet for office use. Ceiling heights are 12 to 21 feet. The facility has three depressed docks with 18 loading doors with levelers and four rail dock doors. A 340-foot rail spur is located on the property.

The first phase of the building was constructed in 1960; additional sections were completed in 1962 through 1966. Basic construction is steel frame and metal panel, with a face brick front office entrance. Exterior improvements include blacktop and gravel paved driveways and perimeter chain link security fencing.

Suggested opening bid is $1.4 million. A cashier's check for $140,000 is required to bid on the Antioch facility. On-site inspections will be by appointment only. To schedule an appointment and to receive an auction brochure, call 312-630-0915.

The auction will be held at 1 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 18, in the Westin Hotel O'Hare, 6100 N. River Rd., Rosemont.

These sales, combining a variety of properties in a single forum, offer one-stop shopping for investors interested in expanding the scope of their real estate portfolio at one auction," said Steven L. Good, president.

Sheldon Good & Company has sold nearly $2 billion in real estate at multiple owner, multiple property auctions. More than 6,000 buyers have purchased property at these auctions. Real estate sold in this manner includes condominiums, townhomes, single family homes, building lots and commercial properties, from high rise office buildings and apartment complexes to industrial warehouses and retail stores.

Ranked by Forbes magazine as the largest national real estate auctioneer, Sheldon Good & Company has auctioned over $4 billion in commercial, residential and industrial property throughout the United States.

This manufacturing/distribution center at 90 McMillen Rd., Antioch, will be offered for sale at an auction on Oct. 18. The one-story, fully sprinklered industrial building is a 333,600 square foot facility situated on a 14.7 acre site. Suggested opening bid is $1.4 million.

Turning retirement dreams into reality

by KEN HITTEL, Ph.D

Knowing some numbers can help you make decisions that could mean great happiness for the rest of your life.

Seven in ten working Americans believe their retirement savings are inadequate.

Almost half of those age 50 to 64 have not given any thought to how much money they will need at retirement.

Fifty percent say that no money is being put aside for retirement in their households.

Social Security will contribute only a part of the monthly income you need. The current monthly maximum is less than $1,088 for 65-year-old retirees, and it's likely that even this level of benefits will have been shrunk by the time today's 50-year-olds reach retirement age. And don't forget how Medicare benefits have changed over the years. You'll do best to think of government benefits as a bonus to your retirement plan, not as a substitute.

Where to start
Begin at the end. What do you want to do during your retirement? How do you envision your retirement lifestyle? Now assign an approximate dollar value to that lifestyle given your current wealth, income, savings, and rate of savings, how much of your retirement dream will you be able to afford?

The question is, must you adjust your dreams to your means, or can you manage those means to realize your dreams? At a minimum, the resources available to you upon retirement should be sufficient to provide adequate retirement income, and fund desired bequests.

Other important long-term goals, such as meeting educational and other dependent needs, must also be considered. Retirement planning focuses on what can be done today to realize long-term financial goals. It is not a one time act, but many related ones: budgeting, saving, investing, income tax planning, dependent needs planning, estate planning. These endeavors revolve around one main consideration—the very essence of retirement planning—namely, taking action to accelerate the growth of wealth. What can you do to realize your retirement dreams? What can you do to increase the growth of your wealth? Maximize your income

The most obvious way to increase wealth is to increase income. Planning constraints can often be eased by an increase in salary, whether this is achieved by negotiating a raise, assuming additional responsibilities, or training for a more lucrative position. Some professionals might consider part-time self-employment. Adhering to a well-conceived and disciplined budget allows you to better anticipate how much money you'll have for retirement purposes, and how you can allocate it. Budgeting also enables you to control interest (debt) expenses. You can increase your income immediately simply by repaying any credit card or life insurance loan debts.

You should also make a firm commitment to "forced savings." Take maximum advantage of your firm's 401K, TSA, SEP or other qualified pension plan.

Take a good look at your taxes. Tax planning lets you reduce tax liabilities and enhances your investment options.

Investment portfolios

The first way to increase your wealth through investments is simply to allocate more of your assets to investments. By increasing the amount you invest relative to your personal and liquid assets, you improve the weighted average return on your assets. By diversifying your investment portfolio, you reduce its risk exposure. By assuming intelligent risks, you improve the long-term total return on your investments. Investing more intelligently, and more profitably, is possible with mutual funds. Funds offer professional management of your invested dollars, as well as diversification across country, industry and company lines, and between types of securities.

Minimize moving expenses—take deserved tax deductions

Uprooting yourself and your family in order to take a new job in a different part of the country or even in another area of your state is never easy and can be costly. But don't assume that you have to bear the financial burden of the move on your own. Uncle Sam may help you. According to the Illinois CPA Society, if your employer is not reimbursing you for your moving expenses, many of them may be tax-deductible.

To take a tax deduction for qualified moving expenses, CPAs point out that you must itemize on your tax return. Some moving expenses are deductible in full and others within limits. In either case, your moving costs are subject to a distance test and a time test for remaining in your new location.

The 35-mile distance test
To qualify for a tax deduction, Congress has ruled that the distance between your new job and your former home must be at least 35 miles more than the distance between your old job location and your former home. To establish how far your home is from your new job, you must use the shortest route possible. For the purpose of the distance test, your former home does not necessarily have to be a house or a residence that you own. It can be an apartment, co-op or even a trailer. It cannot, however, be a vacation home.

Time tests for employers and the self-employed

Your ability to take a tax deduction for unreimbursed moving expenses is also affected by how long you live in the new locality. Tax law requires that you stay in the new area and remain a full-time employee there for at least 39 weeks during the 12-month period following your arrival at the new job location.

What if six months after moving to accommodate a new job, you fall victim to an unexpected round of company layoffs?

As long as you didn't voluntarily leave your position, the 39-week requirement will be waived and your moving expenses will still be tax deductible.

However, if you voluntarily leave the job that required your relocation, you must find another position in the same locality or your tax deduction will be disallowed. Although you can meet the 39-week requirement by holding different jobs in the same locality, you cannot meet the requirement by switching from a full-time to a part-time position.

If you are self-employed, you are required to meet a stricter time test. You must work full time for at least 78 weeks during the 24 months immediately following your arrival and must work at least 39 weeks in the first 12 months. If you give up your business and take a full-time job as an employee, you may qualify under the 39-week employee time test. However, if you have not worked 39 weeks as a full-time employee in the first 12 months, you must meet the 78-week test.

Deductible expenses
For tax purposes, moving expenses are classified into two categories: (1) direct expenses, which are fully deductible, and (2) indirect expenses, which are deductible within limits.

Direct expenses include those associated with moving your household items and personal possessions to your new home. Expenses that are fully deductible are fees paid to moving companies to pack and transport your possessions, insurance costs for the items that are being moved, as well as costs for moving or shipping an automobile to a new location. You may even take a tax deduction for the costs of connecting and disconnecting utilities. Fees for installing telephones are not, however, deductible.

The costs you and your family members incur in order to get to your new residence are also fully deductible. These include expenses for transportation and lodging, as well as 80 percent of your meal costs. If you drove your car, you are entitled to deduct the actual costs of gas and oil for your car or nine cents a mile.

If your old home was not usable the day before you moved, you may deduct costs associated with staying elsewhere for that day, as well as any lodging expenses you incurred on the day you arrived at your new home.

The money you spend looking for a new home, costs associated with selling your old home, and expenses for temporary living quarters are considered "indirect expenses" and are deductible up to specific limits. The maximum amount you can deduct for indirect moving expenses is $3,000. No more than $1,500 incurred for house-hunting trips and for temporary living expenses is deductible. You are allowed to deduct temporary living expenses for any consecutive 30-day period after you get the job, but before you move into permanent quarters.

Despite these limits, you still have the opportunity to take some valuable tax deductions that can ease the financial burden of moving. Real-estate-agent commissions, attorney fees, transfer taxes, and any other costs necessary to sell your residence and buy a new one are deductible. Additionally, although you may not deduct security deposits you place on a new residence, you may deduct security deposits that you lost as a result of canceling your lease.

CPAs point out that high-income earners face certain limitations on their itemized deductions. If your adjusted gross income is more than $100,000 (or $50,000 if you are married filing separately), check with a tax advisor to determine the extent to which your moving expenses are deductible.

Finally, be sure to establish a log of your expenses as soon as you begin to plan your move—otherwise you risk overlooking some valuable tax deductions.

Taxpayers ask about day care providers

These are typical of questions asked by taxpayers and are presented as a public service of this publication and the IRS.

Q. I've started a small day care in my home, can I deduct the expenses?

A. You may be able to claim a limited deduction for the expenses for using part of your home on a regular basis to provide day care if you care for children, for persons 65 or older, or for persons who are physically or mentally unable to care for themselves. Also, you must have applied for, been granted, or be exempt from having certification or other approval under your state law.

Q. I read in the newspaper about simpler recordkeeping rules for day-care providers. What's it about?

A. You can now deduct expenses for any area of your home that is available for day-care use throughout the business day. If you utilize the space or room regularly for day care, you do not have to record the specific hours that you actually used the room.

Q. Can you give me an example?

A. Yes. If a bedroom in your home is set aside for the children's morning and afternoon naps, the total square footage of that room is considered to be used for the entire business day. This is true even though the bedroom is not being used every hour the day care is open.

Q. What types of expenses can I deduct for my day care?

A. You can deduct, in full, "direct expenses" such as painting or repairs made to the areas or rooms used for your day care business. You may also deduct a percentage of "indirect expenses" that benefit both the business and personal parts of your home. Examples of indirect expenses are: rent (or depreciation, if you own your home), deductible mortgage interest, utilities and services, insurance, and repairs. File Schedule C of your Form 1040 and attach Form 8829, "Expenses for the Business Use of Your Home."

Q. I provide breakfast and lunch for the kids in my day care. Do I claim that on Form 8829?

A. No. You must claim the food expenses as a separate deduction on your Schedule C. You can deduct 100% of the cost of food eaten by the children, and 80% of the cost of food consumed by your employees. For more information, call the IRS at 1-800-829-3676 and ask for free Publication 587, Business Use of Your Home.

Ease service department anxiety when having car repairs

For many people, taking the family auto to the dealer for service or repair is an experience akin to visiting the dentist! It's not something you look forward to, but you know it must be done.

Today it is more important than ever to overcome "service department anxiety." With new car prices climbing, people are keeping cars longer. In fact, in 1984, the last year for which statistics are available, the average age of passenger cars in the U.S. was 7.5 years.

The older the car, the more likely it is to require repairs. Also, a well maintained car will last longer and generally command a better price when the time comes to trade it in.

While "service department anxiety" is a very real concern among consumers, most experts agree it is a needless one, if only because, like Uncle Sam, automotive dealers really want you and your business.

The tools and equipment required to service today's cars are expensive. But more than just return on investment is at stake.

Dealers know that if you're happy with the quality of service you receive, you're likely to buy another car from them and recommend them to your friends and acquaintances.

For these reasons and others, many dealerships are taking a new look at the people you see when you take your car in for service or repair. Generally called service advisors or service writers, these people are the "hub of communications" within the service department.

Recognizing the importance of this position, dealers have been providing their service advisors with increased opportunities to improve their interpersonal skills.

It's their job to establish a probable cause of the problem and write it down on a repair order (R.O.). How well that R.O. serves the customer depends on how well they communicate with each other.

This is because the repair order typically goes to six to eight people, from the technician assigned to do the diagnosis and repair, to the parts manager, the warranty clerk, cashier and so forth. The information has to be correct, complete and concise.

What can you do to help ensure that your needs and expectations, your wants and desires are understood by everyone in the dealership who must act on them?

1. Read your owner's manual. Be sure to follow the recommended maintenance schedule. It's designed to help your car run at its best. Keep all your service records so you can refer to them if needed. Know your rights and responsibilities as the owner of the vehicle.

2. When you call for repair work, outline your needs in sufficient detail to allow the service advisor to set aside enough time to deal with the symptoms you describe.

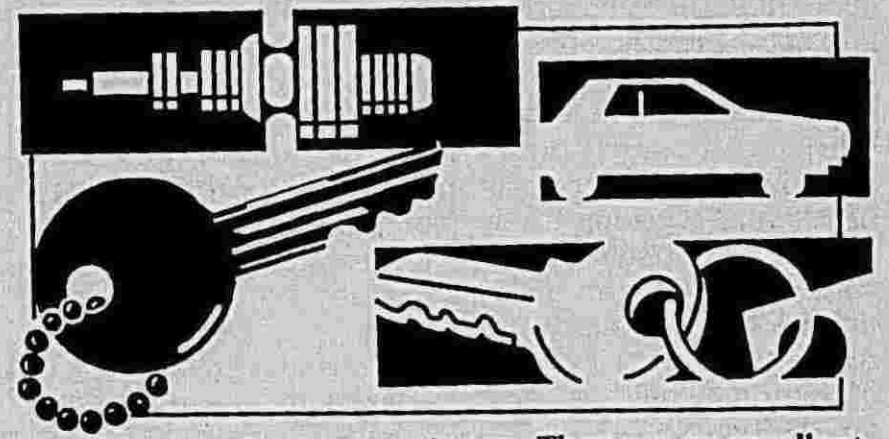

3. State the problem clearly and concisely. It's better to write down things you think need to be checked or repaired, in order of importance and, if possible, leave a copy of your notes with the service advisor.

4. Be particularly precise in describing symptoms. When did you first notice the problem? Where were you? Was the weather particularly cold or extremely humid; in any way different from the norm? Is the problem continuous or intermittent?

5. Encourage the service advisor to stay in touch, to let you know if there are going to be any delays, changes in cost, or additional work that needs to be done. Don't forget to leave a number where you can be reached. Also, determine the means of payment the dealer will accept for his services.

6. When you pick up your car, ask about the work that was done on it. Use your service advisor as an automotive consultant to help keep your car in top shape.

7. Check the car yourself to be sure all problems have been resolved to your satisfaction. Consider your ride home a test drive. If something is wrong, don't be afraid to point it out as soon as possible. It is the service advisor's job to see that your needs are met.

8. If your dealer has "under-the-hood" classes, attend them when you can. They are an excellent "extra" dealers offer to help you become more familiar with the various systems and components of your car and how they operate.

Read car owner's manual

What is black and white, seldom read and usually gathers dust in your vehicle's glove compartment?

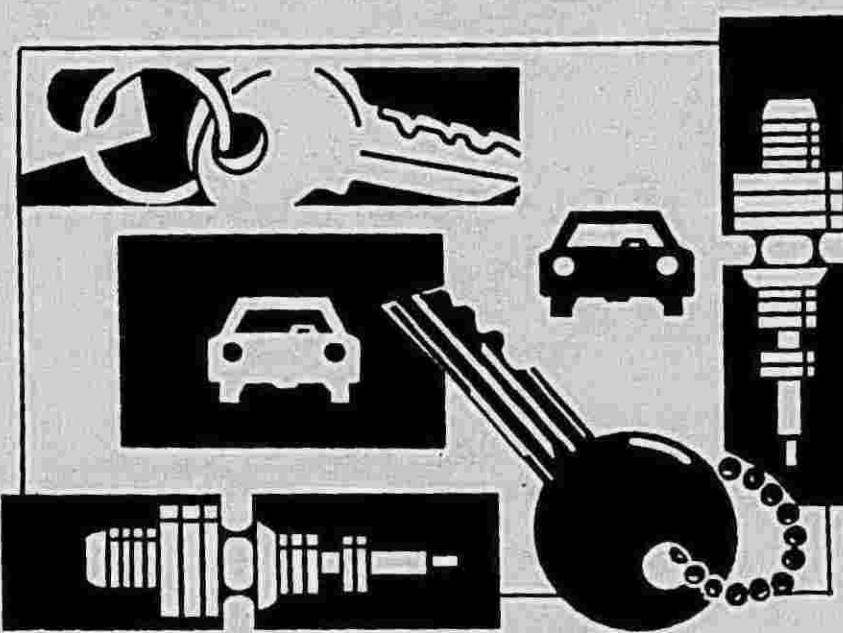

If you said it's the owner's manual, go to the head of the class. If like most buyers of cars, vans and light trucks, however, you failed to read the manual carefully, be prepared to pay for your oversight.

The owner's manual spells out every precaution an owner must take to satisfy the manufacturer's warranties on the vehicle.

Most of these precautions are especially critical when it comes to preparing your vehicle for winter.

The average owner pays attention to such things as engine coolants, batteries, tires, belts and windshield wipers, and that's good. However, they seldom bother to check unseen areas that are equally critical to warranty maintenance.

Virtually every vehicle manufacturer specifies that drain holes in doors, quarter panels and fender wells must be kept open to prevent mud and moisture buildup in corrosion-prone body components. High-pressure cleaning of enclosed areas and metal underbody parts to remove dirt, mud, and dust-control chemicals is recommended, along with retreatment of surfaces that are exposed to continual dampness caused by humidity from salt-laden snow or sea air.

Manufacturers also caution vehicle owners to wash exterior body metals frequently to remove contaminants like industrial pollutants and dust-control chemicals that attack painted surfaces.

Getting a vehicle ready for winter isn't necessarily a priority for most people during the fall months, but they can save themselves time and money by preparing for the frost that winter weather inevitably brings.

Follow the advice of the manufacturers to make certain the warranties on your vehicle will remain in effect.

Several wedding plans do's and don'ts

Wedding planning is time consuming and organization is the key to keeping it under control. The following list of hints will help you accomplish this task. Remember, assigning roles and economic duties may be adapted to today's changing roles and economic realities. A wedding requires a great deal of flexibility and willingness to compromise. These are the keys to a successful wedding celebration.

• Make a date to discuss wedding expectations with both sets of parents and determine what they (and perhaps you and your fiancée) are willing to contribute to the expense and planning. Discuss all the responsibilities up front to avoid confusion or resentment.

Often the bride's family still pays for most of the traditionally assigned costs. In today's economic situation, an offer from the groom's parents to share expenses is a welcome relief. In such cases, it is wise to assign specific items to the bride's parents, groom's parents and/or the engaged couple. Direct billing to each party also avoids confusion.

• Keep a folder for each detail of your wedding. Florists, photographers, videographers and musicians are major parts of your wedding. Keep all contracts, notes and questions filed for quick reference to help you maintain control.

• Talk with divorced parents about a truce on your wedding day. Establish a comfortable seating arrangement for all concerned. Remarried parents should be with their spouses, and it is acceptable to seat them with friends and family instead of at the parents' table.

• Encourage your fiancée to take an active part in the planning. It's his wedding, too, and he may feel hesitant to participate in the planning if the bride's mother is doing most of the planning.

• Hire limousines to transport you and the wedding party to the reception if it is held at a different location.

• Go over all procedures of the ceremony and receiving line.

• Seating plans for the rehearsal dinner should be made in advance.

Written out place cards are helpful if you have a bride's table and a parents' table.

• Don't worry about having an unequal number of attendants if you have difficulty choosing. The rehearsal dinner can serve as the time to arrange positioning so everything will run smoothly.

Maid of honor, best man play important role

Apart from the bride and groom, no two people play a more important part in the wedding than the maid or matron of honor and the best man.

Some brides will choose to have both a maid and matron of honor if the wedding is a large one. A married sister is the logical matron, and an unmarried sister or best friend could serve as maid.

This honor attendant is indispensable to the bride throughout the wedding. At the altar, she adjusts the veil and train, holds the bouquet during the ceremony and lifts back the face veil at the close of the ceremony. She is one of the two witnesses who will sign the marriage certificate. She usually helps the bride dress for the wedding and sees to it that the bridesmaids are dressed and ready on time. She is the bride's lady-in-waiting in all details.

When it is time for the newlyweds to leave the reception to dress for going away, the maid of honor helps the bride change, sees that the luggage is delivered to the best man and checks on any last-minute details.

The groom usually chooses as his best man his brother, a cousin or a close friend. In some cases, the best man may be the groom's father or favorite uncle.

The best man attends the rehearsal, sees that a head usher is appointed to direct the others, and briefs ushers on special seating arrangements for wedding guests. On the day of the wedding, he takes charge of the wedding ring for the bride.

The best man helps the groom pack and dress for the wedding, then accompanies him to the church a half hour before the ceremony is to take place, remaining in the vestry until the wedding march begins. He checks on the marriage license and sees that the groom has it with him before he leaves for the church. He secures the clergyman's fee from the groom and gives it to the minister.

He dances with the bride, her mother and each bridesmaid during the reception, and is the first to toast the bride and groom at the reception. He has the newlywed's car ready!

Consultants can help plan a perfect wedding

You can save time and prevent many of the headaches of wedding planning by hiring a bridal consultant. Bridal consultants are experts at putting together successful weddings within your budget and time frame.

Why hire a consultant?

Consultants usually know the best and most reliable florists, musicians, caterers and other wedding professionals in your local area.

A consultant can be a great help if you are getting married in another city. Hiring a consultant from that area will help you take care of details that must be handled in person.

Consultants save your time and energy by doing the footwork for you. They gather the information and let you make the choices.

You can also save money with consultants who know where to get the best deals as well as where you can cut costs without giving up quality.

Many consultants can also give advice on such details as when the photographer should arrive, how much time you'll need for the receiving line and to get from the wedding to the reception, etc.

Consultants can be hired to do as much or as little as you choose. You may want the consultant to order invitations, plan the honeymoon and design the bouquets. Or, you may simply want the consultant to take care of the caterer and the music.

Choosing a consultant

Ask recently wed friends and relatives for recommendations when you begin looking for a consultant. They can give you advice on which consultants would be affordably and easy-to-work-with.

What to expect

Most consultants will set up an initial meeting to discuss the date, the size and style of your wedding and your budget.

The consultant will probably show you photos of possible wedding and reception sites in your area to help you narrow your choices. You can then visit these sites to help with the final selection.

The consultant can also give you information on hair/makeup stylists, limousine services, florists, caterers, photographers, musicians, etc.

Keep a list of any questions you have between meetings to make that time as productive as possible.

The consultant will be at your wedding to make sure everything goes exactly as planned so you can enjoy yourself.

Other considerations

What types of weddings has the consultant planned? Look at photos from some of these weddings and request a list of past clients so you can call and see how satisfied they were.

Does the consultant accept commission from merchants? This could mean you are limited in your choices. It could also mean, however, that the consultant has a reliable working relationship with suppliers he/she feels deliver the best quality goods.

How does the consultant charge for the services performed? Some charge a percentage of the services they handle. Others charge by the hour or by the day. Some require only a small fee because they receive commissions from merchants.

Make sure you feel comfortable with the person you are considering. You want a consultant who will listen to your needs and not try to impose their tastes on your wedding.

Several tips on wedding gift-giving etiquette

In general, a wedding invitation—to a reception or to a small wedding in a club, hotel or private home—calls for a gift. A wedding announcement or invitation to a church ceremony alone carries no such obligation.

But it is in the selection of the gift that questions and problems can arise. Like most other aspects of weddings, existing "rules" can be most helpful.

All close members of the bride and groom's families will want to send gifts, whether they attend the wedding or not. The bride's parents often will start the couple's flat silver service with as many place settings as they can afford. The groom's parents may give china or crystal or furnishings for the home.

If the bride and groom have registered at the bridal registry in a local store, selecting appropriate gifts will be easy. The registry allows the about-to-be-married couple to list their gift preferences. In addition to assuring guests that what they have chosen is something wanted or needed, it helps prevent duplication and the need for gift returns. The gift purchaser merely visits or phones the store, asks the consultant to check the form registered by the couple and selects a gift according to suggestions on the list.

Whatever the circumstances, a basic rule regarding wedding gifts, no one is expected or obligated to give a gift beyond one's means.

Gifts are usually sent to the bride's home before the day of the wedding, addressed to her maiden name. When they are sent after the wedding, they go to Mr. and Mrs. Newlywed at their new address, or in care of the bride's family. People sometimes do, but should not, carry wedding gifts to the reception.

It is also proper to ask the bride or groom what they would like as a present. If they are using a gift registry, they will probably indicate this and suggest checking with the store.

However, they may make some suggestions as "really prefer pewter to silver," or "We love gardening so anything along those lines would be great."

Center for Breast Health streamlines patients' needs

by CONNIE KINDSVATER
Lakeland Newspapers

"What do I do now?" is often the question after a woman is diagnosed as having breast cancer. One place she can turn to for answers is the recently opened Center for Breast Health at Lake Forest Hospital.

According to Cheryl Corriveau, spokesperson for Lake Forest Hospital, "One phone call is all that is necessary to set up an appointment in the Center. The person who has been diagnosed with breast cancer will then receive a treatment recommendation from a multidisciplinary team of highly credentialed breast cancer specialists — all in just one visit."

"When a woman is diagnosed with breast cancer, it creates a lot of fear and anxiety in the individual," said Dr. Joseph Imperato, medical director of radiation oncology at Lake Forest Hospital. "Breast cancer is confusing; there is so much information."

Barbara Gobel, clinical nurse specialist in oncology added: "The idea for the Center grew out of a concern of physicians and nurses that the diagnosis of breast cancer results in a very frightening time for the patient. It is scary, frightening and time consuming to have to make three or four appointments with different specialists to try to determine what needs to be done. We have streamlined the process, which is so much easier on the patient."

"When a woman is diagnosed with breast cancer, it creates a lot of fear and anxiety in the individual."

"In one appointment at the Center, the patient is able to meet with a medical oncologist, a radiology oncologist, a reconstructive surgeon and a clinical nurse specialist in oncology. And, other specialists can be called in as needed — a pathologist, a psychologist or a social

Imperato explained that the main question is whether or not the patient can choose to preserve her breast — whether her treatment program will include surgery, chemotherapy and/or radiation therapy. The group of specialists will give their recommendation, and the patient is given the opportunity to ask questions and get as much information as she needs to feel comfortable with the recommendation.

Dr. David Berger, surgical oncologist and one of the founders of the Center, said "This is a consultative service which is an excellent way to supplement the very good medical care available in our area. It is a concerned, understanding, directive approach coupled with a woman's needs. It is not for everyone, but is open to anyone who feels that they need it and wishes to use it."

Dr. Lionel Ganshirt, general surgeon and another founder of the Center for Breast Health, said "By having the different specialists available to come in, spend one hour and answer the patients' questions all at once, we can help the person who has doubts as to what treatment is best for her and can expedite treatment for the patient."

Ganshirt continued: "Originally, certain areas of the country excelled in the treatment of breast cancer. But, the treatment has now been standardized to the point that 99 percent of the patients receive comparable treatment in the community setting."

Berger emphasized: "Today, the opinion about the treatment of breast cancer is likely to be the same, no matter which physician the patient speaks to, provided that person is knowledgeable in treating breast cancer and breast disease. But, some women want another opinion, appropriate advice or medical direction — and that is what we have done, created a community resource for the patient with breast cancer who wants or needs our help."

"And, men can also develop breast cancer," said Berger. "It is rare, but it is every bit as troublesome as female breast cancer, and our state-of-the-art approach for providing services for breast health can also be helpful to the male patient."

The Center for Breast Health at Lake Forest Hospital is the first of its kind in Lake County. "A few other hospitals in our metropolitan area offer this service," said Ganshirt. "The University of Chicago has a center, as does Presbyterian-St. Lukes and Evanston Hospital."

Gobel said Lake Forest Hospital sees about 90-100 cases of breast cancer each year, which average about two per week. She stressed that with early detection of breast cancer, there is a high rate of survival, 90 to 95 percent.

The American Cancer Society recognizes October as Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and urges all women to learn the simple process of self-examination and to follow the Society's guidelines on having mammograms. Early detection is the single most effective weapon against the disease of breast cancer.

Itching dogs can mean signs of allergy, infection

All dog owners have seen their dogs itch and scratch. Some times they scratch a little, other times quite a bit. At times the poor dog itches so badly, that he gets no rest and his skin develops sores and scabs. There is very little one can do to help.

Well, there is help, in fact, a lot can be done to ease this kind of discomfort. The first thing is to find out the cause of itching. Most of us immediately think of fleas. Fleas do cause most of the itching observed in dogs, but there are many other causes. As fleas cause skin allergy, so do other factors.

During the summer and fall months especially, plant origin particles, pollens, spores and molds in the air can affect ones immune system and cause a reaction. This reaction in a person is known as hay fever. In dogs, skin becomes the target. The worst part of the season seems to be August and September. There are other causes of itching, such as infections, mange and others, so one should never make any assumptions. To make sure that proper care is given, ask your veterinarian to diagnose the problem correctly. Too many people spent lots of energy and funds trying to get rid of fleas while their dog has another problem.

Treatment of allergies is easier now that it was years ago. Treating dogs with injections and oral preparations of anti-inflammatory drugs has been done for years.

Progress in immunology allows us to determine sources of allergies from a single blood sample taken from the patient. The next step is then to desensitize the itching patient with preparations made especially for him.

Do not ignore an itching dog. Itching is common, but is not normal and it is uncomfortable. Help is available and your pet deserves to be comfortable. —by DR. KRZACZYNSKI

DOG Facts & Fancies

Helpful Advice From The American Kennel Club Dealing With The "Dog Days"

Every dog has its day, they say—but few pets enjoy the "dog days" of summer! Warmer weather can be dangerous for dogs if they're not properly cared for. Fortunately, your pet may stay happy and healthy if you take these six helpful hints:

1. If you leave your dog out in the yard, be sure there's plenty of shade.
  2. Keep in mind that school's out—and so are children. For everyone's protection, keep your dog on a leash or within a secure enclosure.
  3. Don't leave your dog's food out in hot weather—bacteria grows quickly. If food must be left out, make it the dry kind.
  4. Visit the vet for parasite medication. Check daily for ticks and fleas.
  5. Try not to leave the dog alone in your car—it heats up quickly. If you must, park in the shade and leave the windows open so fresh air can circulate.
  6. Most importantly: always keep plenty of cool, fresh water handy, inside and outside the house.
- For more warm weather pet care advice, consult your veterinarian.

Portraits created by artist with help of few pictures

They say that a picture is worth a thousand words. For Bill Brusenbach of Vernon Hills, a

But, Brusenbach is not a photographer. He uses simple snapshots and designs personal portraits with the use of watercolors, pen and ink, graphite, and pencil. "When you are doing a portrait," said Brusenbach, "you develop a relationship with it." Brusenbach can take a so-so picture, improve the quality, erase distracting elements and balance the composition.

He enhances each portrait to a mood, an expression, the personality and the uniqueness of the individual. "I like to create what that person wants," Brusenbach said.

Brusenbach has been creating in this manner for the past 14 years. He only started relying on his art as a means to support his family for the past 9 months.

Brusenbach has never been formally trained for his craft, but has been asked to help teach classes at the Art Institute in Chicago.

"I capture moments," said Brusenbach. "I get a lot of pleasure painting kids. They have such hope and promise."

"Most people in art want to make a statement," said Brusenbach, "I want to have fun. I never considered it fine art, but I do what I feel inside." —by AMY E. PRZYTLA

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search, Last week I applied for a position in a collection agency as a collector for which I have 4 years experience. The interviewer asked me where I see myself in 3 years. My answer was I want to own my own collection agency. The interviewer turned to me and said, "Wrong answer!" then ended with thank you for coming in. I feel the interview was blown at that moment. What was the proper answer to that question? L.G. - Libertyville

A: Dear L.G., Evidently the interviewer felt threatened with your goal to open your own business in their field. The idea of you gaining all their knowledge of their business and clientele obviously didn't sit right, which is not hard to understand. Next time when asked that question, answer with something a bit more open ended, such as: "I see myself being the best I can be in my field."

Q: Dear...Search, Due to cut-backs I was laid-off from my last job in February. I have been collecting unemployment compensation since then and have been cut off. During this time I have been doing things around the house and traveling with my husband. Now I have begun to search for a job only to find that there are fewer jobs available and loads of people looking. I have applied for an extension on my benefits only to have been rejected. I didn't think I would have a hard time finding a job with my office management skills. I am noticing fewer of those positions available now. What should I be focusing on? D.L. - Lindenhurst

A: Dear D.L., Let me start by saying that Unemployment Compensation is not "vacation pay." Too many people believe this to be the case thinking that this is "owed to them," thus intensifying our current problems in the state. While a person may have compensation benefits due them it is supposed to be looked upon as a short term situation with idea of putting all your efforts into seeking new employment. These days interviewers are wise to gaps in employment, and with a story such as yours, anyone would question drive and ambition. I would be focusing on getting a job if that is in fact where your heart is now!

I HELPED SAVE A SMALL LIFE TODAY!

We don't destroy homeless animals! They live their full lives uncaged if not adopted. We spay and neuter, conduct a dynamic pet visitation/therapy program for the elderly, provide education programs for young people and offer a special "pet retirement" program. THANK YOU FOR YOUR HELP!

SPLAWN

By Landmark Designs, Inc.

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 86'-6" X 77'-6"
LIVING: 2243 square feet
GARAGE: 982 square feet

Grand. That word springs instantly to mind on viewing the Splawn's classic columned entrance. Regal Palladian windows overarch a wide door flanked with stacked windows. The columns are capped by a high gable. Lesser arches trim the three garage doors, adding grace and unifying the exterior.

While the vaulted entry hall is equally dramatic, it also has its practical aspect. A coat closet is tucked into an alcove hidden by the open door.

placed here trail down the walls, creating an arbor effect. The bridge leads to a single room that could be put to a number of uses, including artist's studio, recreation room or hobby space. It has a half-bathroom in one corner.

A second story bridge overlooks both the entry hall and the large vaulted living room at the rear. Plants placed here trail down the walls, creating an arbor effect. The bridge leads to a single room that could be put to a number of uses, including artist's studio, recreation room or hobby space. It has a half-bathroom in one corner.

French doors on two sides of the living room open onto decks, the left one larger than the right. A woodstove angles across one corner of the room, providing a warm focal point on chilly days.

In the large country kitchen, another set of French doors opens the bayed eating nook to the deck. Meals, and even the kitchen table, can be easily moved outside when the temperature rises. Other features include a built-in dishwasher, range and oven and a step-in pantry. A formal dining room is right across the hall.

The master suite is expanded by a richly glassed sitting area that opens onto the deck. Luxury amenities include a large walk-in closet and a two-section bathroom with a linen closet and a second basin in the dressing area.

Another notable feature of the Splawn is the mud room, entered through a door that's located between the entrance and the garage. Placing a bench on the stoop would provide a seat for removing messy footwear as well as a place to stow these items while they dry out. Interior doors open to the garage on one side, and a utility room on the other. The utility room has long counters for folding clothes.

For a study plan of the DEERHORN (402-05), send $7.50 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Add splash of color now for next spring's garden

Traditionally considered a time for raking leaves, carving pumpkins, hay rides and football games, autumn is also the best time for planting flowering bulbs. Planted during fall in flower beds, rock gardens, along a hedge or fence, or in the lawn, bulbs are a great way to add a splash of color to any landscape.

Easy to plant and cultivate, bulb blossoms will thrive next spring if they are given a hospitable growing environment and are properly groomed this fall for winter dormancy. Bulbs

Bulb varieties

The most difficult part of planting spring-flowering bulbs is choosing from among the hundreds of species and hybrids available. Some of the most sought after varieties include:

Tulips—The most popular of all spring flowering bulbs, tulips offer gardeners a wide range of choices in height, color, shape and bloom time.

Narcissus—More

commonly referred to as daffodils, this winter-hardy flower comes in many shapes and colors. These bulbs develop extensive root systems in fall and provide better flowering results in colder climates.

Muscari—Nicknamed the "Grape Hyacinth," these tiny, bright purple flowers multiply quickly and resemble bunches of upturned grapes. Flowers stay in bloom for one to three weeks and thrive in sun or shade. They are an excellent choice for borders.

Chionodoxa—Commonly known as "Glory-of-the-Snow," this early spring flower blooms in loose clusters of white, blue or pink, and can vary from three to 10 inches in height. This bulb type is an ideal plant for borders and rock gardens.

Planting tips

Whether they are planted individually or in groups, spring-flowering bulbs will thrive and flourish if you follow these few simple planting procedures:

Prepare the soil—Once the planting bed has been selected, turn the soil over to a depth of about 10 inches to aerate the site and give bulb roots ample room to grow. Quick to rot if left standing in water, spring-flowering bulbs flourish best in light, well-drained soil. Where necessary, condition soil with fertilizer as required.

Plant at proper depth—Using a bulb planter or trowel to dig the holes, the general rule of thumb is to plant bulbs to a depth of three times their overall height. With the soil removed to the required depth, lightly press bulbs into place bottom side down (the fat side is the bottom), return the soil, and water thoroughly.

Protect against pests—Bulbs are a tasty treat for many hungry creatures, such as mice, moles, squirrels and chipmunks. To keep these animals from making a restaurant out of your garden, soak each bulb for a minute, prior to planting, in a safe and effective animal repellent.

Groom with caution—The best way to ensure that bulbs flower again next year is to "deadhead" (remove the dying blossom) from the wilting plant at season's end, but allow foliage to wither without immediate pruning. This is crucial as stems and leaves continue to create and store food for winter dormancy.

Seasonal songbirds soothe the senses

Relief from the hassles and pressures of work is no longer solely an over-priced beach vacation at a tropical paradise resort. Drowning out the hustle and bustle of everyday life can be as simple as winding down to the beautiful sights and sounds of nature.

According to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, over 82 million Americans have discovered the joys of relaxing to the sweet melodies and playful antics of brightly colored songbirds feasting in their yards. Bird feeding is a simple and inexpensive way to invite the cheerful, easy song of feathered friends to your home.

Bird songs

Birds sing for as many reasons as there are types of birds. For instance, a strong, piercing song serves to threaten other birds and define territorial claims, whereas a rich, sweet song may be used by a male to attract a mate. Short, fierce cries are alarm calls used to warn other birds of impending danger. Other calls, called contact notes, keep moving flocks in touch with each other as they fly across vast regions. In all, birds sing to communicate with each other, out of love or competition, and for the sheer pleasure of hearing their own voices.

Songbirds supplement their diets with the seeds and nuts they find in bird feeders, such as the Easy Feeder from Easy Gardener, Inc., often rewarding their providers with a musical medley of chirps and whistles. A generous and diverse assortment of seed, including sunflower seeds, oatmeal flakes and crushed peanuts, is certain to attract a wide variety of bird species. When these birds flock together around the feeder, a veritable symphony can be heard.

Bird varieties

The ability to identify different birds at the feeder is a great source of pride and enjoyment to many ardent bird watchers. One of the most frequently sighted birds is the robin. Best known for its sleek, brick-red breast, the robin can build a home in almost every part of the country, from forests or fields to coastal areas and mountain glades. Its diet consists of a variety of insects, grubs, nuts, and seeds. The robin's varied, fluid warbling makes it a favorite of bird watchers.

The best known woodpecker in North America is also a frequent sight at the bird feeder. A great fan of seeds and suet, the inquisitive downy woodpecker will readily visit accessible feeding stations. The male of the species is marked with a bright red head patch in addition to more subdued black and white feathers.

The blue jay has earned the well-deserved reputation of being the easiest bird to attract with the least amount of effort. A great fan of cracked corn, suet, and sunflower seeds, its bright blue and white feathers add brilliant color and spirit to the yard while its enormous repertoire of original songs calms and soothes daily tensions.

A sweet, mournful call distinguishes the gentle mourning dove from sharper, shriller songbirds. The most widespread dove in the United States, this bird has become a common sight at bird feeders, eating most varieties of seed including millet, oat, and corn. Its warm brown body, soft, pinkish breast and characteristic black wing spotting make the mourning dove a soothing sight at the feeder.

Other colorful additions to the yard include the goldfinch, a vibrant yellow bird with a yen for sunflower seeds; the brown-headed cowbird, with its distinctive coppery brown head and metallic blue body; and the cardinal, noted for its brilliant red feathers.

Bird Feeders

Attracting these and other birds to your home is easy. A huge selection of bird feeders, ranging from the simple and inexpensive to the complex and ornate are available. While some devoted bird watchers elect to construct feeders of their own design, an easier way to invite a few feathered friends to your home is to purchase an economical, ready-to-use feeder.

While many birds are destined to spend this winter in warmer climates, others will be left to fend for themselves through the snowy and icy season ahead. Instead of packing up and heading south, why not help out those who are struggling to make it through the northern winter?

Good Service, Bad Meat

I'm a Gurnee resident calling in response to the grocery store situation. The caller states that the grocery stores have great people and prices. That may be true. But great personnel and prices don't mean much when the deli, bakery, produce and meat department is unsatisfactory. Give us a high-quality grocery store in Gurnee, and never mind who owns it.

Hair Fashion

I'm a 27-year-old guy with a full set of hair. But I guarantee that if and when I lose it, I would let nature take its course or get a professional hair weave or something. What I'll never do is let the sides grow extra long, and then part it almost over the ear and plaster it over the bald spot. I hate seeing men do that. Don't they have mirrors. Can't they see how ridiculous they look? I'd rather see guys shave their heads first. I'm from Antioch.

So long, Clinton

This is for "Read My Lips." I have a political comment for you. Read My Lips: No More Clinton. That's my comment. The motto of the day is: So long, Bill.

More Dangerous

Concerning the Rte. 59 expansion and $3.5 million facelift. I feel that the bridge and S curve on Rollins Road is more of a threat to drivers. The bridge was built in the 1930s, which is older than the bridge over Rte. 59. I feel that the curve should be straightened. How many people must be killed or maimed before our elected officials do anything.

Stoplight Needed

I wish someone could tell me why they don't put a stoplight at the intersection of Gilmer and Midlothian. Around rush hour it's unbelievable. It's a stupid blinking red light, rather than a stop and go.

Pro-Lifer Stands Up

In response to "Sick of It" and the comments regarding pro-lifers. First, let me say that I am one of these pro-lifers and we're fighting for these babies rights, because even if the woman is considering an abortion and doesn't want the baby, someone else does. In fact, if you look in the Personals edition of Lakeland Newspaper Notices, you'll find dozens of sections that inquire about adoption. For this reason we're killing our babies? Some mother may not want the baby. But many people do. It just keeps going on. It's a circle and its vicious. If we don't fight for these babies and their lives, nobody will. I'm a Grayslake resident and I'm angry about these pro-choicers.

Needs Bigger Library

We need a bigger and better library in Lake Villa. The library is only going to get 3 percent more money because of the cap, and they have to serve all of the new people. Let's help our library and vote for the new addition. It's too crowded in there. I hope everybody votes for the new library and votes for more room. I'm from Lindenhurst.

TCI Was Good For Him

I'm calling about TCI cable. Today, my cable was off for one hour. I called TCI, the girl was very nice. Within two hours, a serviceman was at my front door to fix the cable. I've never received service like this before in my life. The young man, crawled underneath my trailer and replaced a cable that was very bad. He showed me the cable. Everybody slams TCI, but this was not the case for me. This cable company has done a great job for as far as I'm concerned.

If It Weren't A Cop

I can't believe that the Libertyville Police Chief is getting a closed hearing on the charges of illegally strip searching a 16 year old girl. If a normal person had been accused of forcing a girl to take her clothes off, he'd be arrested and charged with aggravated sexual assault, and the case would be all over the papers and looking at a jail term. Now, here, a police officer does it under the guise of law and order, and with the law behind him, forces a young girl to take her clothes off. And the worse that will happen to him is that he might lose his job. We won't even hear the arguments because the hearing is closed to save the girl the embarrassment. If it were a regular person and not a cop, you'd hear all the arguments and the girl's name would still be spared. I'm from Libertyville.

Congress To Goof Up Cable

It's good to see that Congress is going to regulate the cable television industry once again because of complaints of inefficient management and high prices. Because if there is anyone who knows about inefficiency and high prices, it's Congress.

Williams Park Problems

I'm responding to your Letter to the Editor about the Williams Park Association which says that you should go to meetings to find out where the money is spent. The law in Illinois is quite specific. They have to give you a yearly cash disbursement report. And also, an association is only with homeowners, not renters. I wrote the letter about not getting the balance sheet from the park for the year. But the law is that you're supposed to get a report every year. I don't get it. I'm not going to go to a meeting to get it. I rent my house out and I'm not coming out to Williams Park for a meeting every week to hear what's going on. By the way, people who rent houses shouldn't be on the board, and they are.

Got a Million Dollars?

I'm from Round Lake. This is in reference to the person who complained about the village of Round Lake not having a beach or boat ramp. There is only one parcel available for this, and it's for sale for $1 million. Where does this person think that Round Lake can come up with this kind of money? Or could he maybe buy it and donate it to us.

NIAAA awards grants to aid elderly in Lake County

The Northeastern Illinois Area Agency on Aging awarded grants totaling $692,512 to the following agencies to provide services to the elderly of Lake County. Receiving grants were: Catholic Charities of Lake County — Information and Assistance, $84,739; Outreach, $23,000; Ombudsman, $27,144; Case Management, $96,000; Congregate Meals, $179,891; Home Delivered Meals, $163,312; III-D Services, $6,554; III-G Training, $300; III-G Elder Abuse, $3,000; totaling $583,940. Prairie State Legal Services, $26,955; Regional Transportation Authority/Pace $81,617.

The figure listed for the Regional Transportation Authority/Pace is the amount allocated for the Transportation Budget in fiscal year 1993, and is subject to change when the contract with Pace is completed in December 1992. The exact amount of the RTA/Pace contract will be announced at that time. The Lake County total of all grants and contracts is therefore also subject to change.

In addition, $5,000 will be available for Emergency Support Services in a regional fund for the eight counties of the agency's services area. Catholic Charities of Lake County, the Case Coordination Unit for Lake County, will be free to draw upon this regional fund as needed.

Protect child with vaccinations

Measles, rubella and mumps — childhood diseases that were once nearly eliminated in the United States — appear to be making a dangerous comeback.

The Health Department offers immunizations for children every Monday from 1 to 3 p.m.; Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m.; Thursday from 1 to 3 p.m., at the Belvidere Medical Building, 2400 Belvidere Road, Waukegan.

Other immunization clinics are held at times during each month in Wauconda, Antioch, Zion, Highwood and Round Lake Park. Call the health department for more information at 360-6761.

Knights' offense clicks

The Lake County Knights semi-pro football team may just be putting it all together at the right time offensively.

The Knights were awaiting word on their playoff assignment after giving the Untouchables a battle in an 18-13 loss Sunday at Hanson Stadium in Chicago.

Quarterback Gordon Bittner completed nine-of-18 passes for 95 yards as the Knights settled for a 3-4 regular season record.

three yards out and Kevin Amidei scored on a one-yard plunge for the visitors' touchdowns. Amidei score, following a sack of the Untouchables punter by Kevin Canipe, gave the Knights a 13-12 lead with 10 minutes left. But the Untouchables marched down the field, scoring the winning TD with 1:51 left.

"These are the schemes we have worked on all year. They are really coming together as a unit. Towards the end of the season, these are the people who came to this team for are first year. We have jelled as a unit," Knights Coach Tom Nelson said of the offense.

The Untouchables scored first when a bad snap forced Bittner deep into his end zone. He tried to knock the ball back into play. The Untouchables touched it and gained a 6-0 lead.

That lead stood until the third quarter when Mark Sellers scored on a 21-yard run. The extra point try was blocked for the second time.

Greenway plan adopted for northeastern Illinois

The Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission, a 32-member intergovernmental agency serving Lake, Cook, DuPage, Kane, McHenry and Will counties adopted the Northeastern Illinois Regional Greenways Plan at its meeting, Sept. 12. The plan was developed after extensive consultation with the region's open space agencies.

The plan proposes that the metropolitan area's forest preserve districts, park districts, municipipalities and other jurisdictions cooperate to preserve more than 1,000 miles of interconnected open spaces in the six-county region.

Regional greenways will consist of stream corridors, floodplains, and wetlands, abandoned railroad rights-of-way, shared utility and transportation rights-of-way and other public and private open lands. The plan is the most comprehensive and ambitious metropolitan scale greenway effort in the country.

The plan creates guidelines for county and local actions which will improve the quality of water in streams, reduce the risk of flood and stormwater drainage, protect wildlife habitat and beautify communities and neighborhoods. When appropriate, the plan encourages regional greenways to be provided with biking paths, trails and open recreational facilities to serve inner city, suburban and rural communities.

The plan encourages communities to connect their local trails and greenways to the regional network. NIPC is also encouraging area planners to consider using trails in greenways for pedestrian and bicycle connections that could reduce automobile travel and help control air pollution in accordance with the new federal clean air and transportation programs.

The commission is launching a plan implementation program in conjunction with the openlands project, the open space advocacy organization that coauthored the plan. Implementation will require improved intergovernmental coordination, increased funding for open space and the stewardship of greenway resources by citizens.

NIPC is the official comprehensive planning agency for the six-county northeastern Illinois area. In addition to planning, the agency provides technical and research assistance and reviews federal grant requests for local governments.

Copies of the plan may be obtained by calling the commission's publications department at (312) 454-0400.

Spelling bee is Oct. 4

The Literacy Volunteers of Lake County will conduct its fourth annual spelling bee at 2 p.m., Oct. 4 at the College of Lake County.

The top three winning teams will be invited to participate in the state adults spelling bee championship on Oct. 24. The co-chairs of the event are Gerry Stewart and Kathy Wilvert.

The public is invited to attend the spelling bee.

Latest liturgical conference has message for all

The Bishop Raymond Goedert, along with Dean William Zavaski of Deanery I, which comprises 22 parishes in Lake County, invite everyone in the county to a liturgical conference at St. Mary's of Vernon in Mundelein, Oct. 17.

Father John Finnegan with his staff has been preparing for more than a year. "This is one of the biggest events among Catholics in Lake County," Finnegan said, who expects more than 800 to participate.

"There is no shortage of priests, when we have so many dedicated lay ministers fulfilling the rolls open to them," Goedert said.

The development of competent ministers and ministries is central to providing the setting for effective community prayer and worship.

To keep this vision alive and well, all the lay ministers and planners are welcome to be at St. Mary's of Vernon on Sept. 17.

YMCA AirFest takes flight this weekend in Waukegan

Watch daredevil stunts and acrobatic flying at the 1992 Lake County Family YMCA AirFest. Dave Dacy and Friends are leading performers in today's aeronautic acrobatics and they will be the feature presentation at this year's YMCA AirFest, scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 4 at the Waukegan Regional Airport.

Turn back the pages of aviation history with Sid Nelson in a 1939 Clipped Wing T-Craft, better known as a Nelson Special, as it graces the skies with amazing maneuvers. This old but new airplane will do beautiful large loops, rolls and hammerheads, clover leaves, daring snaps and rolling 360s.

Susan Dacy will continue our stroll down memory lane with a complete demonstration of the 1930's style of airshow flying.

A definite crowd-pleaser, Glasair III flown by Doc Morgan is breathtaking as it flies with incredible speed and maneuverability. You will be thrilled by the beauty of hammerheads and humpty-dumps, snap rolls and vertical 8s.

The most daring of daredevil stunts, the inverted ribbon cut, will be performed by the unmistakable nine-color Christen Eagle II. Watch as Jim Tomasino masterfully threads the Eagle II between two 20-foot high poles with a ribbon strung between them and slices the ribbon — all while he is flying upside down.

Probably one of the greatest attractions to the AirFest is the P-51 D Mustang. This plane was the state-of-the-art showcase plane in military action in the 1940s. It was the "Top Gun" of 1944. This is a must see for the military enthusiasts.

The AirFest will benefit the Lake County Family YMCA, which is celebrating its 100th birthday. This, the second AirFest, will take place at the Waukegan Regional Airport and tickets are available by calling 360-9622. Tickets are $5 in advance, $6 at the door. Children age 5 and younger are admitted free when attending with a parent.

Military enthusiasts will also have the opportunity of a lifetime when they attend the AirFest. The C-130 Hercules, a short field transport aircraft and air-to-air refueler will be on hand. The AH-64 Apache Helicopter, the Desert Storm Hero, will be at the AirFest, as well as the CH-47 Chinook Helicopter.

Radio controlled planes will delight crowds as six of the top 10 flyers in the world will demonstrate their capabilities and fly with amazing precision and lightning speed.

Corporate planes from Cessna, Canadair and others will also be at the AirFest, displaying their offices in the sky.

Bad Roads

Hi. After driving home on Deep Lake Road and banging the bottom of my car for about the 15th time, I certainly hope the state or the township is not giving Skokie Valley Asphalt any kind of incentive for doing such a slow, schlock job.

Got a Penny?

I'm an 18-year-old Grayslake resident and have a two-part question. All I ever wanted in my life was to go to a private college. And, because of the shape of our economy and my family's financial status, I can't do it. The financial aid I qualify for is not enough to get me into the private schools. And the biggest problem is that I'm not an athlete. You see, colleges today will pay anything for an athlete. But for a student who wants to go to school, wants to work hard and give the school a good name, there's not much available. My family is doing all they can for me, and the farthest it's gotten me is the College of Lake County. So what I have is a question for the readers, and this has been done before in The Chicago Tribune, but as a joke. I'm asking this question as a serious plea. If I were to get a post office box, would the readers of the Lipservice and Lakeland Papers be willing to send me a penny. I want to put that penny toward a college education. If enough people were willing to send me a penny or nickel, I honestly think it could get me to the college of my dreams. That's the only thing on my Christmas list this year, the college of my dreams. Would the readers be willing to help me?

Kudos For 911, Paramedics

Hi. I'm from Round Lake Beach. On Sept. 23, around midnight, my husband complained of chest pains. I immediately dialed 911. Within a few minutes, the paramedics from Round Lake were walking in my front door. Needless to say, both my husband and I were upset and nervous. The paramedics set us at ease with their care and pleasant attitudes. They transported my husband to Condell Hospital and I was allowed to ride along in the ambulance. After being in the emergency room for a spell, the same paramedics returned to the hospital with another patient. One of the paramedics came over to where my husband was to see how he was doing. They both wished us well as they left the hospital. Up until now, I never thought much of this service available to us. I'd like to say I have gained great respect for the 911 system and the fine men who man our paramedic ambulances. Thank you for your care and your concern, and for just being there.

Chicken Issue Cleaned Up

I would like to have the opportunity to defend myself. I am the business man who is advertising that I am the only one selling genuine broasted chicken in Fox Lake. This is a true statement. Broasted is a registered trademark of the Broaster Co. In order to say that you sell broasted chicken, you must adhere to the Broaster Co. standards in the way you prepare the product as well as cook it. It's like selling generic cola and calling it Coke. I was encouraged to run the ad by the Broaster Co. and they will back up my claim. I'm not saying the other three restaurants and grocery store are selling bad chicken, it's just that it's not genuine broasted chicken.

What About Antioch Theater?

Hi. The Lakeland Newspaper needs to offer more coverage of the fine amateur theater group PM and L in Antioch. Rarely are there long articles and photos focusing on upcoming shows. Never will a reader see a review of any PMNL production. This thespian troupe has been in operation for more than 32 years, longer than any theater organization of Lake County. PM and L deserves and needs more coverage to inform residents about shows. It is the duty of any local paper to provide this coverage for its community.

Hello

I just wanted to say hello. Have a nice day. Good-bye.

Grocery store needed

I live in Libertyville, and I'd like to echo the lady who called about a grocery store on the north side of Libertyville. I have found it so disconcerting not to have a store here. Please, someone listen. We need a store here.

Culturally Illiterate

This is for all you culturally uneducated people in and around Libertyville who think that the ceramics and jewelry courses should be dropped from the high school curriculum. I think that these classes are needed in order to teach students things that are not regularly examined in a typical classroom. These classes give the students the opportunity to examine various artforms and interesting techniques that may be unfamiliar to them, as well as provide a learning experience. Thank you for listening.

TCI Should Take a Hint

I don't know what your problem is with cable, but I've had US Cable and have never had a problem in my life. The picture is almost never interrupted, the company answers the phone and the help is rather polite. It sounds like TCI Cable needs a few tips from US Cable.

Just Throw Money

How many of you have ever wondered what Hainesville does with all of the money it collects through speeding tickets? After looking at that town, I can't believe that it only has a gas station, softball park and a few rocks in the road. I'm surprised that Hainesville hasn't collected enough money to buy out Grayslake and Round Lake Beach. Next time I drive through Hainesville, I'll just throw money out the window to make it easier for the police. Better yet, I'll just bypass Hainesville and get my gas somewhere else, and play softball somewhere else. If Hainesville ever gets new businesses, I have a feeling that people won't buy anything there because they'd rather avoid the town and the speeding tickets. So long, Hainesville.

Lake County Grows Up

If there is a God, and I do hope there is. I hope that he will someday strike all the housing developers who have made Lake County a living hell. There is nowhere we can drive to without getting stuck in traffic. There is nowhere we can walk to without seeing garbage. There is nowhere we can go — period. I wish we had never grown up. Lake County was nice at one time.

Mundelein parents' support bodes well for the future

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It was not a good day to be flipping hamburgers, or selling candy.

Rain was coming down hard for most of the sophomore football game as Mundelein fell to Stevenson 26-7.

The members of the Mundelein High School Gridiron Club came dressed for the dreary Saturday. They were clad in various rain garments.

The varsity Mustangs gave Stevenson more than a run for the Pats' money in a 20-12 loss, the 21st straight. The wins may not be coming soon, but the parents' spirit is alive and well at MHS, thank you.

"We are looking at things that will keep the players interested. When we get more players on the field, then the program will turn around. Recognition is one word we stressed. All the players' pictures are in the program this year. That did not happen here until this program came out," club member John Logan said.

The club is an extension of the Booster Club.

Logan directed the fundraising which netted $20,000. The first thing he had done was new Mundelein uniforms, complete with names. And that translates all the way down to the freshmen level. Also purchased was a five-man blocking sled, which replaced Mundelein's original equipment.

Donn and Tana Hamm were in charge of raising advertising dollars for the slick MHS program. More than 100 businesses agreed to participate. That's more than Libertyville High's program, the Mustang faithful are proud to point out.

The club is no where near done for 1992-93. Some $1,500 in prizes will be raffled at Homecoming at halftime of the Freeport game.

"The kids are appreciative and know they have a special group going for them," head coach Mike Egan said.

Marilyn Fuller has been behind the video camera for at least five years. This year she is using a new video-cassette recorder with editing ability. "When you tape it, you don't really get to watch the game. You watch it when you get home," Fuller said.

Marilyn is the mother of Jeff Fuller, now starting at tight end for Northeast Missouri State University.

Donn Hamm teaches graphic arts at Barrington High and used his talents to come up with the advertising layouts for the slick 66-page book. He was on the 1964 Mundelein team which won a NSC title.

"The program reflects a nice football team and the community that cares about it. That's what we really wanted to do. We had wonderful response from the community," Mrs. Hamm said.

"To have raised the amount of money so far, for the benefit of the high school and sports in general. No one dreamed we would be as successful as we have been," Dale Arnold, varsity coordinator, said.

"The program has been in the doldrums for a couple of years, but now they have some respect, now they have identity, they see they are an import cog in the system and the parents and the community are behind them. The equipment is designed to give them some recognition and motivation, especially when they are so out-manned," Arnold said.

Old play works wonders in Carmel's fourth win

Carmel football Coach Mike Fitzgibbons has called on the play before. In fact, he knows he is not the first one to use it.

He also knows originality in play calling does not win football games — heart and execution do. Take the Carmel 13-7 win over St. Joseph Friday in Mundelein.

After Steve Zuiker notched his second St. Joe turnover — this one an interception, in seven minutes, Carmel moved the ball to the 29, Fitzgibbons called on the play.

"They would fly to the corner. The draw is there if they would fly to the corner. I had it in the back of my mind and I just happened to make a lucky call. I think Red Grange has scored on that play," Fitzgibbons said.

Carmel quarterback Tony Longmire did his job perfectly. He held the St. Joseph defense spellbound for an instant, long enough for Clark to find himself in the secondary for his longest game of the night.

"We tried it against St. Viator, but I fumbled the ball," Clark said.

This time, everything went perfectly as

Clark quickly got behind the visitors' defense. Carmel may need some more fourth-down conversions as Carmel, (4-0, 2-0 ESCC) entertains Joliet Catholic Oct. 2.

The two state-ranked teams find themselves on top of the ESCC race at 2-0. Joliet Catholic had no trouble with St. Patrick in a 42-0 win. St. Viator knocked off Marist as both of those teams trail the leaders at 1-1.

The 29-yard play by Clark, coupled with a game-clinching interception by Brad Kalk, helped erase failed fourth down tries — three of four. Those failures did not bother Clark.

"It was a little disappointing but we kept saying in the huddle, 'we were going to do it in the fourth quarter,'" Clark said.

Clark finished with a workmanlike 70 yards as carries of two or three yards were more common in his 10-carry night. He was a linebacker early in his career at Carmel. He admits the 2-7 1991 campaign was no fun.

"Last year it was frustrating for the team. This year I feel everyone will play hard and we have people in just one position. Last year we had a lot of people playing two positions. Last year we had to go both ways. We found players who could really play," Clark said.

Wauconda still favorite as NWSC season starts

It may not have been too long ago that Wauconda fans can remember seeing only two or three players on the sidelines at any given time.

That's because when 11 players were on the field, that represented the bulk of the Wauconda team. But those days are fastly turning into memories as the Bulldogs head into the Northwest Suburban Conference season off a perfect 4-0 mark.

Wauconda, in fact, was the only team in the league to sweep its opposition. With 19 letter winners back from a second-round playoff team last year, the Bulldogs did little to tarnish their pre-season pick as NWSC favorites.

"We knew we had a good bunch of kids who were willing to put in some time in the off season with passing leagues and lifting weights," Wauconda Coach Bob Kasper said.

The Bulldogs host Marian Central Oct. 2, opening night for the five-team NWSC. Other games pit archrivals Grant (2-2) at Round Lake (1-3), Johnsburg (1-3) at Grayslake (0-4) for the Rams' Homecoming.

Marian Central comes into the contest a respectable 2-2, but off a 44-36 overtime loss to Montini. MC is led by quarterback Dirk Stenger.

Kasper is pleased with the development of last year's signal caller, Johnson.

"He is one of the best we have seen this year. He has gotten a lot better at running the option and makes us a tough club," he said of Johnson.

The St. Edward contest was much like the one against Jacobs a couple of weeks ago. Wauconda led 28-8 in the second half, but had to survive two fourth quarter touchdowns by the Green Wave (1-3).

Defense set up the scores by the offense early and often as five St. Edward turnovers helped the visitors' cause.

Chris Kanzler, a senior defensive back, snared a first-quarter interception (his second of the year) which led to a one-yard TD run by Randy Brill, the first of his two.

His second TD was set up as Ben Seelye recovered a fumble. A two-point conversion run gave the Bulldogs a 15-7 lead.

The lone drive of the game came next, capped off by Byron Johnson's 27-yard touchdown run. He scored again on a one-yard run after Nate Bowers recovered a fumble.

Dan Ritchie and Johnson also earned kudos for their play defensively.

"Them staying together and playing within the system is really showing its benefits," Kasper said.

The running game was a balanced one this muddy day in Elgin. Johnson, Brill and Kevin Cajda, all rushed from between 68 and 81 yards. Johnson was three of 14 for 54 yards in passing.

Cajda was back in the lineup after an injury suffered in the Jacobs game.

Mustangs scare Patriots, may sneak up on Warren

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers
Tim Akins spoke without hesitation.

"This was the best game we have played," the Mundelein High School quarterback said following a 20-12 loss to Stevenson. "We played four quarters. Thinking of the other games, I thought, coming out for the second half some guys would quit, but we came out and scored two touchdowns," Akins said.

Akins came into the game as both the quarterback and leading tackler, important responsibilities for a junior. "I can't get myself hurt; I can't smart off to the refs or anything because it would really hurt the team," Akins said.

Mundelein travels to Warren Oct. 3, looking to spoil the Blue Devils Homecoming.

Mundelein could not overcome big plays by Gus Steger, who scored on a 55-yard pass play from Nate Smith on the game's first play and a 53-yard third quarter touchdown run. Smith scored the touchdown in between, a disputed 32-yard run at the end of the first half.

"The whole line did a great job. The mud makes it a lot tougher because some of the cuts you can make on dry

Mundelein used some fancy formations to start the second half, with the line and the quarterback lining up on opposite sides, the original shotgun.

"We wanted to give them a different look," Mundelein Coach Mike Egan said.

The Mustangs did not get down on themselves after Smith hit them with the touchdown on the first play. "We told them we had a lot of game left," the coach said.

"I was surprised it (the field conditions) were not that bad. I thought I was going to be flipping all over, but I wasn't," Akins said.

Mundelein's Akins responded with two touchdown passes to Steve Schueler.

"Steve did a real nice job as a receiver and running it. He is quick, a good runner. Defensively, if you don't block him, he will cause a lot of havoc in the opposition's backfield. He is a key player for us," Egan said.

"Tim is starting to read better and he threw the ball a lot better the second half," Egan said.

Stevenson, now 2-0 in the North Suburban Conference, 3-1 overall, had some adversity to overcome as well as the mud and the Mustangs. Fajai Leary and two other starters were suspended from the team for one game, leaving some platoon players going both ways.

"Their kids played well. Our kids took it for granted we would win. The field conditions did not help any, either, Pats Coach Bill Mitz said. "We got a win and regardless by one or whatever."

The defensive secondary continued to be a strength for the Pats, who host Zion-Benton Oct. 2. Mike Sigel intercepted two of Akins' passes.

"We have to play with more intensity next week, though," Mitz said.

Bears get closer, face Chargers next

The difference between Lake Zurich denting the win column in the Fox Valley Conference boiled down to mistakes and mud.

The Bears were hurt by both factors in a 21-14 loss to Cary-Grove at the Trojans' Homecoming.

"We're getting close. We are not that far away from being a good team," Lake Zurich Coach Wayne Kuklinski said.

The Bears (2-2, 0-2 FVC) entertain Dundee-Crown Oct. 2 at 7 p.m. The visitors seemed to get the worst of it when it came to dealing with the "M" word, mud.

Leading rusher Joe Carbis, who had amassed almost as many yards as days in a year, was held to 57 yards on 23 carries.

Quarterback Jerry Blum did manage to get off two touchdown strikes. A 28 yarder to Jack Henderson trimmed the Cary lead to 7-6 at halftime.

The Trojans took advantage of key Lake Zurich mistakes to score two touchdowns in the third quarter.

The first was a 12-yard run after an opening second-half drive. The second was a one-yard run by Todd Pearson after a roughing the kicker call.

Brian Gabriel caught a 23-yard pass from Blum after the Trojans capitalized on a LZ mistake which led to a 21-7 lead.

"It was just an out pattern. He carried a couple of defenders with him the last five yards," Kuklinski said.

Carmel

Clark, a former linebacker himself, noticed some kinds in the Chargers' defense. "They were tired in the first quarter. They're not as good as everyone says they are. They had no lateral speed. It was their safeties and corners making the plays," he said.

Carmel's defense stopped Chargers' QB John Salka after an 11-yard touchdown run by Jeron Hines.

Carmel answered that score, on a 11-yard run by Jermaine Williams. That's the way it stood until halftime.

Clark helped his teammates and worked the Mundelein crowd into a brief frenzy.

"I've been doing it since I was a freshman. When our offensive or defensive people go down, our whole team goes down," Clark said.

Carmel QB Tony Longmire showed his scrambling ability on runs of 14 and 20 yards. Two, 26 and 15-yards were to Dave Zorzy.

Clark is the son of Al Clark, former North Chicago educator now assistant Lake County Knights semi-pro team.

"Dad thought I was better at linebacker, but he sees I am a better influence as a runner. At first I was disappointed I could not play linebacker, but not anymore," Clark said.

Defense answers the call in another Carmel victory

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Although slow in starting, the Carmel defense picked up in intensity as the game wore on and became more crucial in a 13-7 win over St. Joseph.

The defensive secondary

Overtime

and linebackers ruled the play, as Steve Zuiker came up with a fumble recovery and interception, Brad Kalk did the honors in game-saving fashion and defensive back Rudy Magna had two knockdowns of St. Joe passes.

"I'm really pleased with our backs. They played very well. St. Joe did some nice things on their option, but after the first drive we did OK. The first drive of the game they scored but after that they did not get any points. It must mean our defense played very well," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

In the four wins, the Carmel defense has yet to be scored on in double digits.

Zuiker, a linebacker, believes the group is a cohesive one.

"It wasn't any different. It was normal coverage. I just read my keys. It was right to me," Zuiker said.

St. Joe quarterback John Salka joined the ranks which St. Laurence's Keith Schuck started, opposing QB's who tested the Carmel defense and came up empty.

"They did a lot of passing so we were tested a lot. We made mistakes at times, but we adjusted," Zuiker said. "When we know they are going to pass, we go to man-for-man (coverage) because our defensive line gets in there and puts pressure on the quarterback."

Zuiker is a senior and shares the leadership role with the rest of the Carmel defense. He came into the game as the third-leading tackler. "All the seniors are leaders. We went to camp at Knox College passing camp, weightlifting and our own football coach. Our coach always says being a senior is a privilege and a responsibility," Zuiker said.

Carmel leads this week's top five. Wauconda and fellow unbeaten Libertyville are second and third, followed by Stevenson fourth and Warren fifth with 3-1 records.

Panthers gain confidence

Round Lake defensive coordinator Pat Coon picked a good time for variety against Immaculate Conception.

"We were mixing up our man and under spots and playing a zone," Round Lake Coach Mike Dunn said.

The end result was Clint Rodriguez stepping in front of the intended receiver. That set up the only touchdown of the day, a one-yard run by Henry Gibson. That would all Round Lake would need, though, in a 7-0 non-conference win. The shutout came against a high-powered IC offense which led the team to second in the state ranking.

"This was a great win for us. We played well for a half against Driscoll and Glenbard South but we hustled and came up with key plays," Dunn said.

Dunn read off a virtual roster of Round Lake players who played important part.

The Panthers are at rival Grant at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 2.

Grant set for NWSC

Grant head football coach Mark Barczak is pleased with the progress his squad has made during its non-conference schedule and he feels the Bulldogs are a couple of breaks from being undefeated.

"I'm happy with our non-con, but we could conceivably be 4-0," Barczak said.

Host Marmion Military Academy rallied from a 12-0 deficit to upend Grant 15-12 last Saturday, sending the Bulldogs to 2-2.

Grant will open its Northwest Suburban Conference slate against visiting Round Lake Friday night. The Panthers (1-3) picked up their first win last week, nipping previously unbeaten Immaculate Conception in Elmhurst 7-0.

"I've been a Grant for 15 years, and it's always fun to play Round Lake," Barczak said. "They're well-coached and they have a good football team. It'll be a hard-hitting game but a clean game. I think we have a good ball club, and we're looking forward to Friday night."

Barczak's wish is to break the Panthers' 'bone.

A 28-yard touchdown run by Mike Ward and a 3-yard TD pass from Shawn Powers to Tim Culotta put Grant ahead of Marmion before the Cadets retaliated.

"We caught a couple of bad breaks in the second half and we're able to rebound from it," Barczak said. "But our kids realize it's part of the game. The breaks have a way of evening out."

Grant topped Marmion in total yardage (250-191) and first downs (14-7). Lou Notriano gained 71 yards on 14 carries, Scott Goodale caught five passes for 61 yards and Culotta had three receptions for 37 yards.

Powers completed 14 of 26 passes for 119 yards.

"When we give him the time, he's tough," was Barczak's assessment of Powers, a junior quarterback.

Goodale and Culotta were also active on defense. Goodale picked off two Marmion passes, while Culotta had one interception.

Bulldogs suffered two turnovers of their own — an interception and a fumble — against the Cadets.

National Depression Screening Day

October 8, 1992 1 - 3 p.m. & 7 - 9 p.m.

Professional Office Building, 1st Floor Classroom
Saint Therese Medical Center

Saint Therese Medical Center in association with the American Psychiatric Association, Harvard Medical School and the National Depressive and Manic Depressive Association, is a sponsoring facility of National Depression Screening Day.

Consider these facts about depression: one in five adults may experience a depressive episode during their lifetime; less than one-third of those suffering from depression receive treatment; when treated, depression has a positive response rate of approximately 80%, but left untreated can be a life-threatening illness. As in other areas of medicine, an awareness of key symptoms and treatment strategies is essential for early intervention and optimal response to treatment.

In celebration of National Mental Health Awareness Week, we are offering free presentations on the causes, warning signs and treatment of depression. Individual, anonymous screenings for depressive symptoms will also be provided. * If you are concerned about yourself, a friend or family member, or simply would like to learn more about the effective treatment approaches for depression now available, this is an event not to be missed, which won't be offered again until next year.

* Depression screenings are provided as an educational service only, not as a substitute for a full psychiatric or psychological evaluation and treatment.
